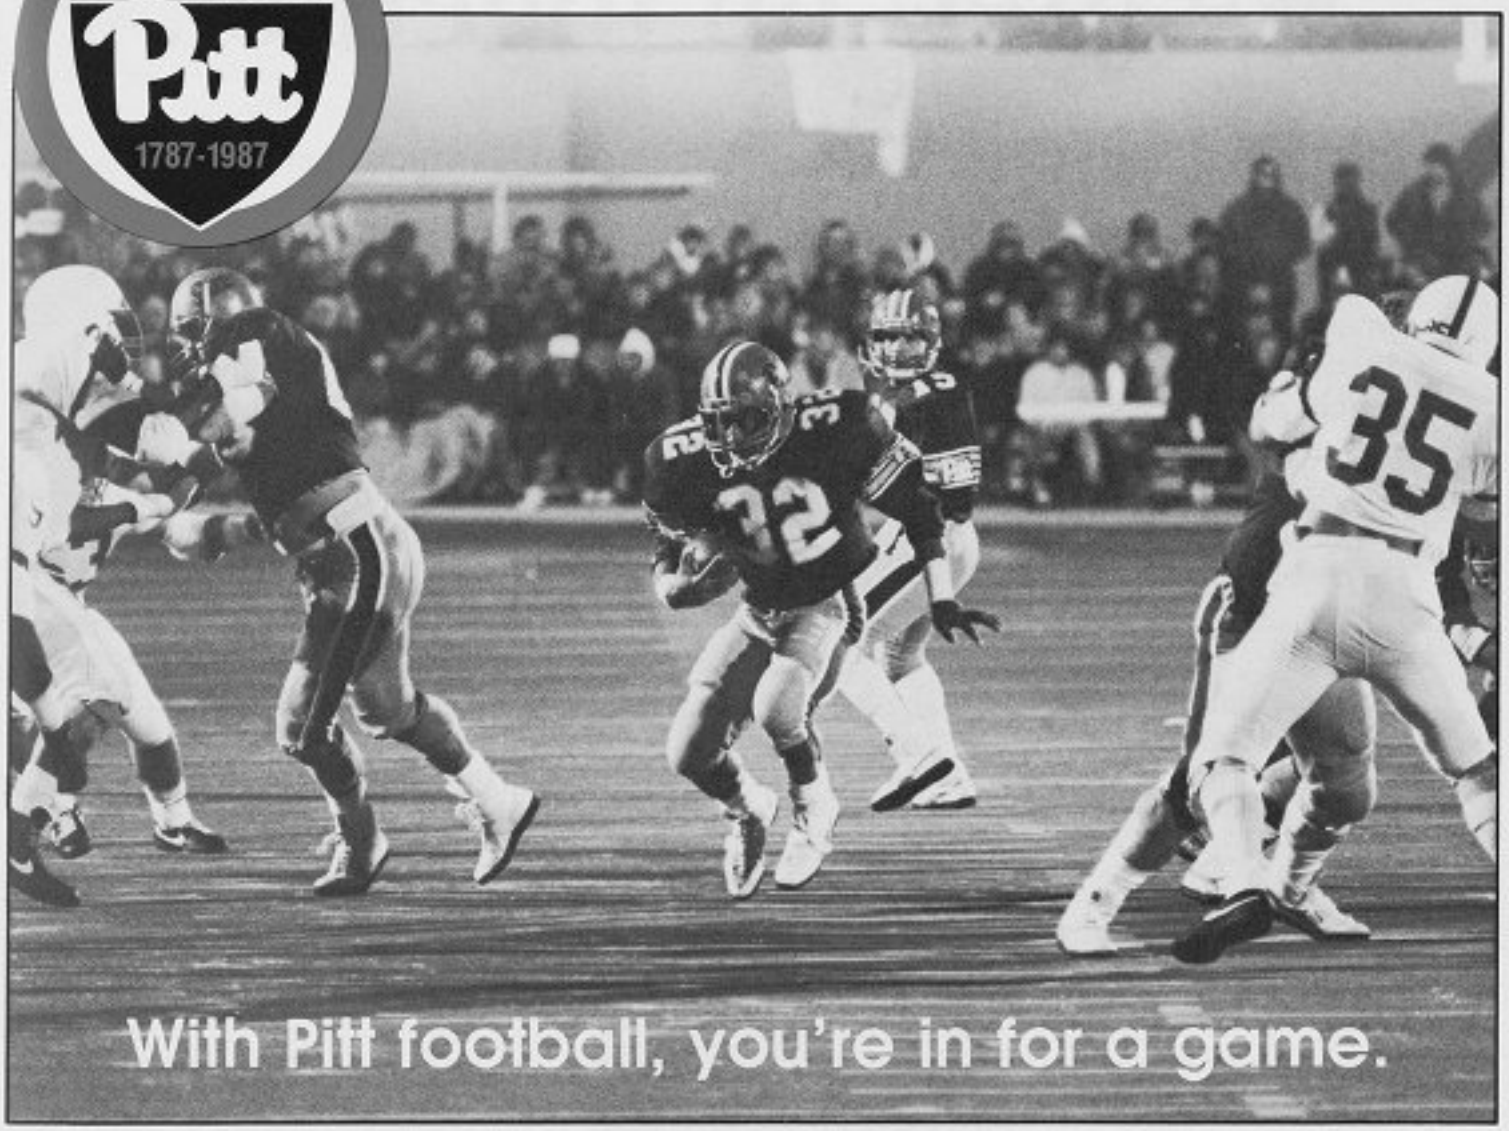
FOOTBALL 1986



Tributes to the Pitt football program:

"We've been coming here since Tony Dorsett. I've always been impressed with how concerned and caring all the coaches, the officials and the administration have been with the players. They have recruited kids out of rural areas in Mississippi, Georgia, Florida and the ghettos of Miami, Newark and some of the steel towns outside of Pittsburgh where the kids can be as hard as they come. But you've worked with them, helped them with their speaking, provided them with courses to improve themselves, and steered them in the right direction. I think most kids respond to that; they can see that you really care. It shows. And I've always been impressed with that. You've been way ahead of most schools in that respect. It's a model program."

— John Wooten, Scout
The Dallas Cowboys

"We sure hope Pitt gets its program back to major bowl contention under Mike Gottfried. There's no team we'd rather have in our bowl game."

— Henry Bodenheimer
Sugar Bowl Committee

"I enjoyed my days at Pitt. If I had to do it over again, and had to make my choice of a school, it'd still be Pitt. I'd play at Pitt again."

— Danny Marino
Miami Dolphins

Some teams had questions about Dan (Marino), but we couldn't find any problems. He was a Pitt guy, so we knew he was mentally tough. Pitt guys are always tough. They handle pressure well."

— Don Shula
Head Coach
Miami Dolphins

"Pitt players are a known commodity. You hardly see any failures out of there. Not only do they make it, but they become the player that everyone expects them to be. They all seem to have that great work ethic and a desire to be the best."

— Les Miller
Player Personnel Director
Kansas City Chiefs

We grew up together.

In 1869, the University of Pittsburgh—then known as the Western University of Pennsylvania and in its 82nd year—was located in a brick building at Ross Street and Forbes Avenue.

Only 11 students were in the 1869 graduating class.

In that same year, Henry J. Heinz started a business of processing, preserving and packaging condiments.

Both enterprises have grown beyond even the most fantastic expectations.

The H.J. Heinz Company and the University have shared a common interest. Hundreds of Pitt graduates, including many executives, have joined the Heinz team. The Heinz family has been a major contributor to various projects and campaigns at the University. One of the most visible is the Heinz Memorial Chapel.

As the University of Pittsburgh celebrates its 200th anniversary, we join with the community in expressing our admiration for this great institution.

Hail to Pitt.

"Hard work makes the difference!"

Mike Webster, 8-time All-Pro center of the Pittsburgh Steelers

Whether you're on the football field or the main streets of Western Pennsylvania communities, hard work makes the difference between just doing your job, and exceeding all limitations to be the best you can be. Hard work is how Mike Webster earned four Super Bowl rings and All-Pro status. Hard work is how Vanguard Federal earns customers' respect and their continued patronage. We will never stop working hard to satisfy the banking needs of our friends and neighbors.

The Many Faces Of Mike Gottfried

Pitt's New Head Football Coach

"I have always felt a part of Pitt football, wherever I have played or coached in the National Football League. I take great pride in Pitt's successes. In Mike Gottfried, you've got the right man for the job. You people have got to give him your support."

— Mike Ditka, Head Coach
Super Bowl Champion Chicago Bears

"It's obvious to me the direction the administration at the University of Pittsburgh is taking in the hiring of Mike Gottfried as head football coach. Mike is a coach who has a history of success in the won-lost column, while insisting on productive academic and moral behavior above reproach from his players. With everyone in the program leaning in that direction, athletics at Pitt should become very strong from one end to the other."

— Gil Brandt, Vice President
The Dallas Cowboys

"I've worked very closely with Mike and had a great relationship with him. The impressive thing about Mike Gottfried is that he is a tireless and conscientious worker. He is always looking for some way to improve his offense and defense. He will leave no stone unturned in getting the job done. He has the respect of his players and has the ability to relate to them so well. They just love to play for him."

— Forrest Gregg, Head Coach
Green Bay Packers

"This guy is a rare jewel."

— Gary Bender, CBS-TV

"Coach Gottfried, I'm just hoping you and your coaching staff can bring the pride back to Pitt."

— Tony Dorsett
The Dallas Cowboys

"He hasn't coached a game here, but I have the feeling Mike Gottfried is a good coach. He turned nothing into something at Kansas, which tells me something. I like the way he's going about things; I think he's going about it in the right way."

— Myron Cope, WTAE

"He's different. He doesn't miss a thing. And he's unusually sharp. He's going to do all right. You've got yourself a good man."

— Pete Dimperio
Former Westinghouse High School Coach
Kodak Coach of the Year Clinic

"I have high goals that I set for myself and for my football team. I've always had a goal to win a national championship, and here at the University of Pittsburgh you have that opportunity."

— Pitt Head Coach Mike Gottfried

HEAD COACH: MIKE GOTTFRIED

The University of Pittsburgh believes it has a winner in Mike Gottfried, the 30th head football coach in its proud history as it heads into the 1986 season and the school's 200th anniversary.

This will be a big year at the University and it will be a lot more fun for all if Pitt can bounce back under Gottfried's direction and restore its national reputation for fielding one of the top teams in the collegiate ranks.

Gottfried has gotten off to a fast start in Pittsburgh in making believers out of people. If first impressions mean much, Gottfried is a good man for the challenge that is in store.

Gottfried gets high marks wherever he appears. Alumni and fans find his words strike the right chord — calling for discipline and loyalty from his troops. Gottfried gets attention when speaking, and wins over a room in a hurry. He has become a much sought after clinic speaker around the country. Gottfried's forte is the passing game. Even the Dallas Cowboys have called upon him to speak to their players on the passing game.

He was a quarterback in college, at Morehead State University, an offensive coordinator in his early college coaching days, and a fellow with a special feel for offense. Gottfried calls his own game, too, relieving his quarterback of such a heavy responsibility. Gottfried knows how to get the ball into the end zone.

"I call the offensive plays. I always have, always will," said Gottfried. "I'm good at what I do. I've been doing it for 20 years."

The 41-year-old coach came to Pittsburgh from Kansas because he felt he could accomplish his personal goals faster here.

"I have high goals that I set for myself and for my football team," Gottfried said on Dec. 12, the day he was announced as the new head football coach at Pitt. "I've always had a goal to win a national championship, and here at the University of Pittsburgh you have that opportunity."

Gottfried got a high just walking across the turf at Pitt Stadium, for starters. "As I stood in the stadium, I looked at all the numbers on the wall. All the national championships . . . the great coaches . . . the great players . . . the history. There's national prestige. I'll be coaching against some of the best coaches in the country."

"The Pitt position has to be one of the best in the country. It's a great football job. It's a lifetime goal."

He made a point in a hurry to his players at Pitt that he means business, and that we won't accept less than their best effort in every facet of their daily responsibilities as students and football players at Pitt. It appears he will be a demanding coach, and intends to have a well-drilled, well-disciplined squad. He wants everybody to get with the program.

Gottfried has paid his dues in his profession.

He had been a head coach previously at the University of Cincinnati and Murray State University. As a college head coach, he has compiled an eight year Division 1A record of 49-39-3, and has rebuilt troubled programs at all three stops. He has improved the record wherever he worked. His record last season at Kansas was 6-6.

In 1984 Gottfried was named the Associated Press Big Eight Coach of the Year when he posted a 5-6-1 record, including a victory over Oklahoma, then ranked No. 2 in the nation. The year before that, he gained national attention with an upset of Southern Cal.

Kansas had a 2-7-2 record the year before Gottfried became its head coach.

At Pitt, he succeeds Serafino "Foge" Fazio who was relieved of his duties Nov. 24, 1985 after four seasons (25-18-3) as head coach.

Fazio and Gottfried were assistants at the same time at the University of Cincinnati in 1975 and 1976.

Gottfried left Cincinnati to become the offensive backfield coach at the University of Arizona. The year after, Gottfried became head coach at Murray State where he went 22-11-1 in three seasons.

Then he returned to Cincinnati and took the Bearcats, who had been 2-9 two years in a row, to back-to-back 6-5 marks. He did that despite having a schedule that included over a two year period the likes of Penn State, Pittsburgh, Florida State, South Carolina, Alabama and Miami of Florida.

In 1983, Gottfried's first season at Kansas, the Jayhawks doubled their wins from the previous year with a 4-6-1 mark.

He was a high school coach in his native Ohio for seven years at the start of his coaching career. He was an offensive coordinator at Youngstown State University in 1974 and helped the Penguins to an 8-1 mark and the NCAA Division II playoffs.

Gottfried is married to the former Michaelene (Mickey) Rosandic of Crestline, Ohio — his hometown as well — and they have two daughters, Mindy (15) and Marcy (13). The Gottfrieds are residing in Oakland, within two blocks of the Cathedral of Learning.

He would like to light up the top of the Cathedral of Learning as often as possible after Pitt games — a sign of victory by the home team. "I know the expectations are great here," he said. "That's what appeals to me. I believe we can win at Pitt."

CHUCK KLAUSING
Assistant Head Coach
Outside Linebackers

There would be a certain appropriateness in finding Chuck Klausing sitting alongside a quiet lake, fishing, relaxing. He is that sort of grandfatherly gentleman, slightly bald, graying in the temples. It's easy to get comfortable with this coach.

Klausing was lured from Carnegie-Mellon University to Pitt, a few blocks down Forbes Avenue, and he immediately familiarized himself with his new players. He would talk to them, at lunch in one of the Pitt dormitory cafeterias. The players began to appreciate him.

His personality, away from coaching, is pleasant. But when he picks up a clipboard and whistle, there is a change.

"Attention," he screams in military style, before each practice. This is his way of demanding, and expecting, precision, dedication, and sweat, from himself and his players.

"I try to be a perfectionist," Klausing says. "I'd like to think I'm a good teacher. I do what it takes to win."

Klausing was one of the most successful small-college coaches in America, a two-time ABC-TV Division III Coach of the Year at Carnegie-Mellon. He understands football, and that is what impressed Mike Gottfried when he hired him as the assistant head coach in February.

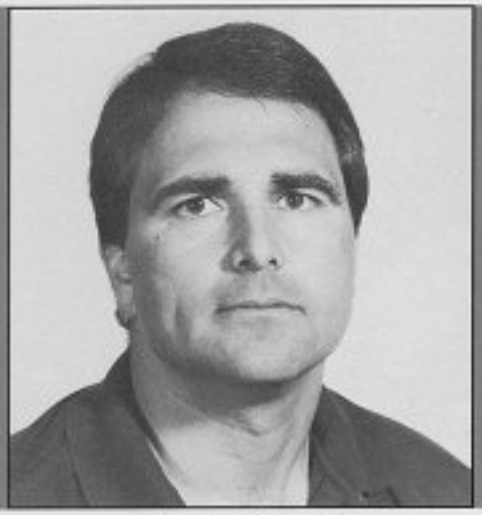
Klausing has lived in the Pittsburgh area for most of his life, growing up in Wilmerding, graduating from Slippery Rock University, and coaching Braddock High School to a 55-game winning streak, the longest in Pennsylvania high school history.

He was the head coach at IUP, taking that school to the Boardwalk Bowl in 1968, the assistant head coach at West Virginia, and an assistant coach at Rutgers and Army, before returning to Pittsburgh and Carnegie-Mellon.

"It's great to be coaching here at Pitt," Klausing says.

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Pitcairn High School, 1948-53, head coach; Braddock High School, 1954-60, head coach. COLLEGE — Rutgers, 1961, freshman coach; Army, 1961-64; assistant coach; IUP, 1964-69, head coach; West Virginia, 1970-75, assistant head coach; Carnegie-Mellon, 1976-1985, head coach.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 4/19/25. Hometown: Wilmerding, Pa. Alma Mater: Slippery Rock '48. Married to the former Joan Wit and father of Patti, Marylou, Tommy, Nancy, and Kathy.



MIKE SOLARI
Offensive Coordinator
Offensive Line

It was early in December, and a muscular young man was sitting on his bed, speaking about the new offensive line coach at Pitt. "I like him," he said. "He seems like a great guy. He's a positive reinforcer." He was speaking about Mike Solari.

Mike Solari packed his suitcase and traveled with Mike Gottfried from Kansas to Pitt in the winter of 1985. He was immediately accepted and respected by the men he coaches.

"I believe in building confidence," Solari says. "Be the best. The best player. The best coach."

Solari is quiet, believable, and the opinion along the offensive line is, "I like him." He'll scream when screaming is needed, but prefers compliments.

"That's my style," he says. "I expect to see hard work, improvement. When I do, I feel the players should be told what they are doing right."

Solari was an exemplary college player, the most valuable offensive lineman at San Diego State, the recipient of the National Football League Hall of Fame Award in 1977, representing academic and athletic excellence.

He began his coaching career in 1976, as the offensive line coach and wrestling coach at Mission Bay (Calif.) High School, and a year later, he was coaching the offensive linemen at Mira Vista Junior College in Oceanside, California.

Solari traveled along the west coast to U.S. International in 1979, was the offensive line coach at NCAA Division II champion Boise State in 1980, and moved to Cincinnati in 1981.

He coached the offensive line at Kansas for the last three seasons, after working with Gottfried at Cincinnati for two years. He moved to Pitt with dual responsibilities: offensive line coach and offensive coordinator.

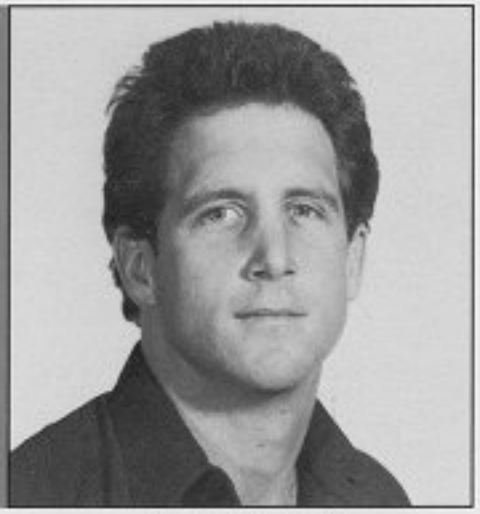
PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 1/16/55. Hometown: Daly City, California. Alma Mater: San Diego State '77. Married to the former Patti Lynn Berry and father of Tamara Elizabeth (1).



JOHN FOX
Defensive Coordinator
Defensive Backfield

John Fox has a significant list of players he has coached: Kevin Williams and Vernon Dean of the Washington Redskins, Rick Woods of the Pittsburgh Steelers, Terry Jackson of the Seattle Seahawks, and Herman Edwards of the Philadelphia Eagles.

He packed that resume in his suitcase, traveling with Mike Gottfried from the Kansas plains to the Pittsburgh hills, eyeing a challenge.

"There's a great football tradition in the city of Pittsburgh. Pitt. The Steelers. There's been some great football played here," Fox says.

"We have very high expectations. Any time you have a program the caliber of Pitt's, you have to.

"Overall, I think we have come together, showed we have toughness, and I think the players are tired of being 3-7-1 and 5-5-1. They want to win."

The challenge is considerable since the Pitt secondary has been a weakness the last two years, with the opposition setting passing yardage records. Fox feels that will change.

Fox learned the defensive backfield position at San Diego State, where he was a solid player for three seasons, from 1975-1977.

He came to Pittsburgh as a young, upwardly-mobile defensive coordinator and backfield coach. It is his ninth change since 1979, progressing from U.S. International to Boise State to Long Beach to Utah to Kansas to Iowa State to the Los Angeles Express of the United States Football League to Kansas again.

"I'd never been in Pittsburgh before," Fox says. "But I have a great deal of respect for Coach Gottfried. That's probably the biggest reason I came.

"This team tries hard. They work hard and we like this team."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: COLLEGE — U.S. International, 1979; Boise State, 1980; Long Beach, 1981; Utah, 1982; Kansas, 1983, 1985; Iowa State, 1984. PROFESSIONAL — Los Angeles Express, 1985.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 2/8/55. Hometown: Virginia Beach, Virginia. Alma Mater: San Diego State '77. Married to the former Robin Militello.

FRANK D'ALONZO
Defensive Ends

Hugh Green. Rickey Jackson. Chris Doleman. The past lurks, staring at Frank D'Alonzo, dictating a standard for Pitt defensive ends.

"It's great to have tradition," D'Alonzo, the coach of the defensive ends, says. "But tradition certainly doesn't win games for you."

There are expectations.

"But as far as I'm concerned, Tony Woods and Jon Carter need to establish a reputation of their own," D'Alonzo says. "They have to establish their own identity and their own tradition."

D'Alonzo comes to Pitt with the idea of setting a new standard, not existing off the past. He is not shying away from the challenge, only redefining the situation.

He served the last two seasons as the defensive ends coach at Iowa State. He was the offensive line coach at Oklahoma State, under former Pitt assistant Pat Jones, in 1983, and a year earlier, a graduate assistant at Iowa State.

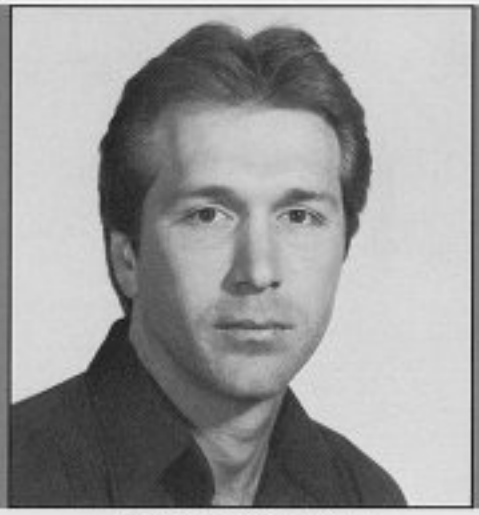
He's not a big man by stature, but he is big on desire and competitive situations. He demands respect on the field and, although he might not be easily seen, he can be heard. D'Alonzo possesses a contagious energy that's not easy to ignore and he believes in the work ethic so familiar to the people of Pittsburgh.

D'Alonzo was a sight to behold at spring practice, seemingly sprinting to his charges after every play, patting them on the helmet or their back, often both.

"We have a chance to win a national championship here, or at least challenge for one. That's a part of the past that I do look at," said D'Alonzo, whose father, Pete, played with the Detroit Lions from 1958 to 1961. "I think we can do it."

COACHING INFORMATION: HIGH SCHOOL — Mt. Olius, 1979-80, defensive coordinator; Roxbury, 1981-82, defensive coordinator. COLLEGE — Iowa State, 1982, graduate assistant, 1984-85, defensive ends; Oklahoma State, 1983, offensive line.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 7/9/57. Hometown: West Orange, NJ. Alma Mater: Villanova '79. D'Alonzo is single.



MIKE DICKENS
Quarterbacks

Mike Dickens has been there, working, watching, as Mike Gottfried acquired the reputation as one of the most innovative offensive minds in football. Dickens merely smiles, shunning the credit he deserves for his share of success.

"It's Coach Gottfried," says Dickens, after traveling with Mike Gottfried from Kansas to Pitt. "But I do feel like I'm a part of what's been accomplished."

Dickens coached the wide receivers and tight ends at Kansas for the last three seasons, aiding a passing game potent enough to finish fourth in the nation in 1983. He will coach the quarterbacks, his more natural position, at Pitt.

"What I expect, and do best, is bring quarterbacks as far as I can," Dickens says. "I have to give them all the knowledge I can, to try and get them to be ten times better after practice than before. If I do, we'll have success."

Dickens was named the Most Valuable Offensive Player in his senior year at Murray State, passing for 2,677 yards and 16 touchdowns in Gottfried's first year as a head coach.

He was a graduate assistant and full-time assistant at Murray State in the late 1970s, the quarterback coach with Gottfried at Cincinnati, and a coach at Kansas for the last three years.

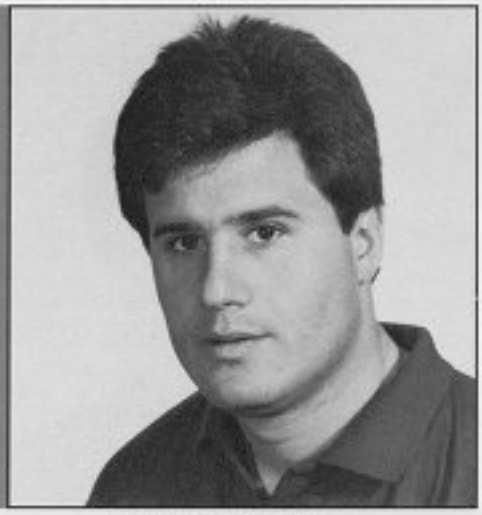
During his coaching stint at MSU, Dickens worked with the wide receivers and guided them to an average of nearly 24 yards per reception.

In 1980 he served as a defensive line coach for a unit that finished the season ranked second nationally in NCAA Division I-AA total defense. The next year, he coached the offensive backs and helped mold the Racer rushing attach which was also highly ranked nationally.

"I've been with Coach Gottfried for a long time," Dickens says. "There's no doubt in my mind what we have to do. The foundation is there. We just have to build upon it."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: COLLEGE — Murray State, 1978, graduate assistant, 1979, full-time assistant; Cincinnati, 1980-82, quarterback coach; Kansas, 1983-85, wide receiver and tight ends coach.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 6/12/56. Hometown: Evansville, Indiana. Alma Mater: Murray State '78. Married to the former Jody R. Prichard and the father of Jacob Todd (5) and John Ross (1).



SAL SUNSERI
Linebackers

He is remembered as aggressive, too small to be a major college linebacker, too darned determined to allow that to stand in his way. He achieved more than most believed he would. He was an All-American.

Sal Sunseri remains at Pitt, his home for four years in the late 1970s and early 1980s, to coach his position, linebackers. He demands from his players the qualities he possessed.

"I expect to get the linebackers to play aggressive and intense," Sunseri said. "I want them to be very emotional, very physical, and very consistent."

Sunseri played on a Pitt defense ranked first in the country in 1981, the only Pitt player to be named All-America that season.

He was drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers, but placed on injured reserve during training camp. He was released in 1982, after a career-hampering injury.

Sunseri returned to Pitt as a volunteer assistant, and was named the defensive line coach in the winter of 1985. He coached the linemen to a Top Ten standing against the rush. His obvious dedication to Pitt impressed Coach Mike Gottfried, as he is the only remaining coach from the previous staff.

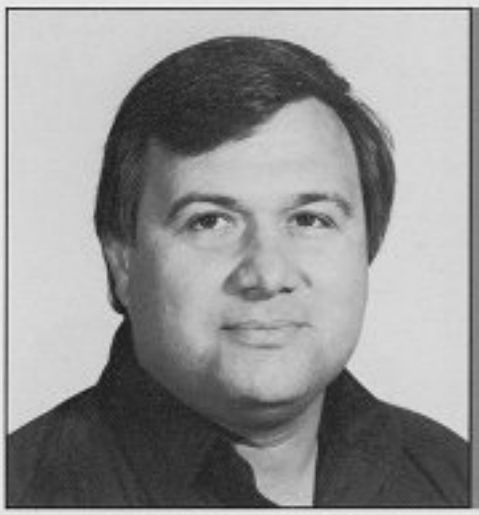
"To coach at Pitt was a goal of mine," said Sunseri, who grew up in nearby Greenfield and was a teammate of Dan Marino at Central Catholic High School in Oakland. "Pittsburgh is my home. Pitt is my school. I couldn't be happier."

He has coached some of the top line talent in the country: Bob Buczkowski, Bob Schilken, Dennis Atiyeh, Walter Johnson and Lorenzo Freeman. His job is not easy, but, with his football knowledge, Sunseri should continue to be effective.

"I worked hard when I was playing, hoping to get this opportunity," Sunseri says. "Instinct . . . awareness . . . intelligence . . . those are the important qualities I was taught and I hope to teach them to my players."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: COLLEGE — University of Pittsburgh, 1984, graduate assistant, 1985, defensive line coach.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 8/1/59. Hometown: Pittsburgh, Pa. Alma Mater: Pitt '82. Married to the former Roxann Evans, who was a varsity gymnast at Pitt.



CARL ANGELO
Defensive Line

Carl Angelo is pleasant man. His eyes are bright, twinkling. His smile, perpetual.

"I'm a great guy, and I'll be your friend off the football field," Angelo says.

"But I'm also a football coach. Like I tell the kids, I have no friends on the field."

Angelo earns the respect of the young men he coaches. He proved that for the last two years at Memphis State, as the defensive coordinator of the 10th ranked defense in the country in 1984.

"It's a two way street: I respect the kids, they respect me," Angelo says. "They know I want to make them better."

He was not, strangely enough, a defensive player in college. He was an offensive center, a star for four seasons at Bowling Green State University.

After graduating in 1970 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Education, Angelo was the defensive coordinator at Warren G. Harding High School in Canton, Ohio, where his team won two state championships. He moved to Denison University in 1976, and Howard in 1979, where his defense was ranked 18th nationally in total defense and #1 versus the pass in 1980.

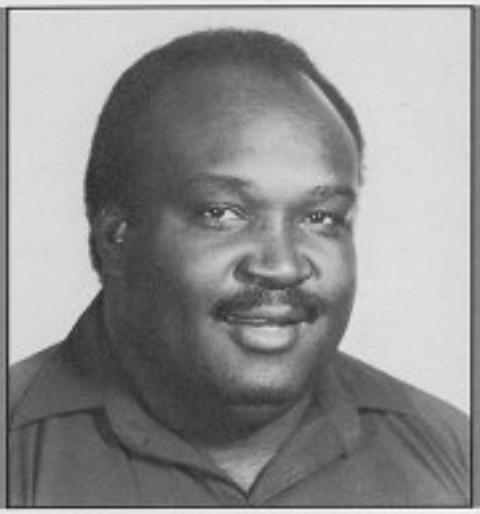
In 1982, Angelo was named the defensive coordinator at Southern Illinois, coaching his unit to a No. 12 ranking in the nation and the Division I-AA championship. He was promoted to Memphis State, where his defense was ranked 10th in the nation in total defense. He then moved north to Pittsburgh last winter.

"It's a tremendous honor to be coaching here at Pitt," Angelo says. "It's like coming home for me. I grew up in Warren, Ohio, and I've always known about the great Pitt tradition."

Pitt has been playing a 5-2 defense since Johnny Majors took over the team in 1973, so Angelo will be a major contributor to a switch in defensive strategy. He's excited about the caliber of the defensive linemen with whom he will be working.

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Warren G. Harding (Ohio), 1970-74, defensive coordinator. COLLEGE — Denison, 1975-78; Howard, 1979-81; Southern Illinois, 1982-83; Memphis State, 1984-85.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 6/23/48. Hometown: Warren, Ohio. Alma Mater: Bowling Green '70. Married to the former Nancy Thayer and father of Eric (5) and Amanda (2).



TOMMIE LIGGINS
Running Backs

Tommie Liggins sat back in his chair, remembering his senior year at the University of Cincinnati. It was 1975. Mike Gottfried was an assistant coach there. Liggins made an impact.

"I had a pretty good season, and I've been with Coach Gottfried ever since," Liggins says.

Liggins began his career in 1977 as a strength coach at Arizona, where Gottfried was the offensive backfield coach.

When Gottfried was named head coach at Murray State a year later, Liggins was among the first assistants named to the Racer staff with the responsibility of coaching the running backs.

The MSU offense consistently led the Ohio Valley Conference in statistics.

Gottfried, along with Liggins, moved back to Cincinnati in 1981, to Kansas in 1983, and then to Pittsburgh, where he will have a chance to coach some of the best talent in the country in Charles Gladman, Craig Heyward and Tom Brown. And of all places, he's right at home at Pitt, with Tony Dorsett, Elliott Walker, Paul Martha and Marshall Goldberg in its history.

His job will be to provide a solid running game to complement Gottfried's favorite part of football — the passing attack.

A friendly, jovial person, he is always quick with a smile but still demands respect and the very best of his players. That's because he always gives his best effort.

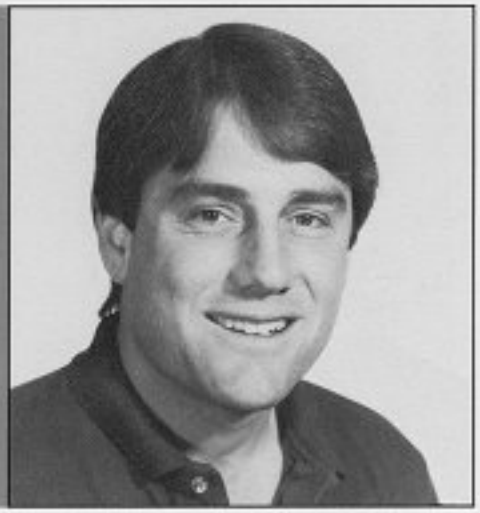
He rushed for over 3,500 yards at Ross High School in Fremont, Ohio where he was an all-state performer. He was also a standout in track as a sprinter and shot put specialist.

"I expect to go out every day, and, no matter what it takes, to be the best I can be," Liggins says.

"I never want to feel as though I know it all. I want to keep working. When people talk about me, I want them to say, 'Tommie Liggins may not be the best, but he's good.' "

COACHING EXPERIENCE: Cincinnati, 1976, graduate assistant, 1980-82, running backs coach; Arizona, 1977, strength coach; Murray State, 1977-80, running backs coach; Kansas, 1982-85, running backs coach.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 11/1/52. Hometown: Fremont, Ohio. Alma Mater: Cincinnati '76. Married to the former Brenda Thompson and father of Shannon (8) and Shellie (4).



STEVE COURY
Wide Receivers

He is a West Coast boy, handsome, reserved, always smiling. His only knowledge of the other half of the country was what others told him, what he read.

"This has been my first introduction to the city of Pittsburgh," Steve Coury says. "All I ever heard about it was the stereotype: Dirty air and water, and rundown. It's been a pleasant surprise so far. The people here have been friendly and open, and that's the key to any area."

Coury is enjoying Pittsburgh and his job.

He learned his position, wide receiver, as an All-Pac 10 and All-West Coast and third team All-America at Oregon State in the late 1970s, before graduating in 1980.

He took a fling at the pros, playing for a season with the Ottawa Rough Riders of the Canadian Football League. Then he returned to Oregon State as a graduate assistant coach in 1981.

The following year, he took a position as assistant coach at Crespi High School in California.

Then he joined his father, Dick Coury, on a three-year adventure in the tumultuous United States Football League (USFL). His dad was the head coach of a USFL team in Boston, then New Orleans and, finally, with the Portland Breakers.

"All the trials and tribulations of the new league didn't bother me any," recalls Coury. "Being such a young guy, and getting such a break, it didn't matter to me. Just spending the time with my dad was like a dream come true.

"I was thrown to the wolves in one respect, but my dad took me by the hand that first year and really taught me how to be a coach."

Then Mike Gottfried invited him to join him in building a winner at Pitt. Coury is the kind of young man who appeals to Gottfried, and Coury has promised to work hard.

"I expect a lot and give a lot," he says. "I demand hard work in order to be successful, tempered with a touch of love and respect. I know, as a player, that's how I liked to be treated."

His coaching philosophy is succinct: "Work hard, have fun."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Crespi High School (Calif.) 1982, assistant coach. COLLEGE — Oregon State, 1981, graduate assistant. PROFESSIONAL — USFL Boston, New Orleans and Portland Breakers (1983-85).

PERSONAL INFORMATION — Date of Birth: 7/3/57. Hometown: Santa Ana, Calif. Alma Mater: Oregon State '80. Married to the former Nancy Godfrey.

DEPARTMENTAL SUPPORT SERVICES

ALEX KRAMER
Administrative Assistant

As Administrative Assistant, Alex Kramer coordinates many Athletic Department activities.

Alex and his family have always been big Pitt fans, even though Alex was born and raised on the Bluff, when Duquesne was a national power in the 1930's. Alex recalls his father taking him to the B&O Railroad Station to meet the 1937 National Championship team after its 10-0 win over Duke.

At the University of Pittsburgh, Kramer was a football manager from 1948-51 and during his tenure, served four different coaches: Mike Milligan, John Chickerneo, Len Casanova and Captain Tom Hamilton. He was manager of the 1950 freshman team, a team that was the first frosh team to go undefeated.

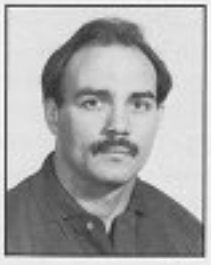
As an undergraduate at Pitt, Alex roomed with Joe Schmidt, the former Panther great and pro football coach, who has been inducted in the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Alex joined the Pitt staff in July of 1978 to serve as Administrative Assistant. This topped a long-time association in which Alex was active in alumni and Golden Panthers affairs.

Prior to joining the Pitt staff, Alex was director of curriculum in the Moon Area School District. He had been with the Moon Area Schools since 1956.

Coach Gottfried said, "Alex is always very organized, very loyal, and a Pitt alumnus who takes his job very, very seriously. Alex is a person that the department cannot get along without."

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 7/28/29. Hometown: Pittsburgh, Pa. Alma Mater: Pitt '52-M.A. at Pitt '61. Married to the former Betty McCormick and father of Charles (27) and Michele (23).



CHARLES "BUDDY" MORRIS
Weight Training Coordinator

Charles Morris, known to most as Buddy, begins his seventh season as the Weight Training Coordinator at Pitt, having established and implemented a strength, flexibility, and conditioning program.

Bill Fralic. Jimbo Covert. Hugh Green. Jim Sweeney. Emil Boures. Morris has been directly responsible for the physical improvement of these prominent Pitt players, among others, in the "Pitt Iron Works."

He is a Pittsburgh native and South Park High School graduate, before leaving for Indiana State in Terre Haute on a track scholarship. He returned home, to Pitt, a year later, graduating in 1980.

Morris, a stout, muscular man, is part teacher, part student. He believes motivation is gained through interaction.

"You have to look the part to sell the product," Morris says. "It takes hard work and a lot of time to develop your body properly. Occasional lifting doesn't work for the players' benefit."

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Hometown: South Park. Alma Mater: Pitt '80. Married to former Pitt high jumper Karen Krichko, the couple is expecting their first child.

BUD RATLIFF
Recruiting Coordinator

Allen R. "Bud" Ratliff was the center, Mike Gottfried the quarterback, back on the lawns of the small Ohio town of Crestline. It is a combination, as friends, in their careers, that has continued to thrive.

They moved to the hills and hollows of Kentucky after high school, deciding to attend Morehead State. Ratliff, after graduation, stayed there for one season, as an assistant coach.

He returned to Ohio in 1973, as assistant coach at Struthers High School for the next two years, then moved north to Youngstown State University, where he worked with the offensive line when Gottfried was the offensive coordinator.

"It's good and it's bad, working with Mike like I have through the years," Ratliff says. "It's good because you know what he's like, and there's a lot of mutual feelings. It's bad because when they hurt, your empathy becomes twice as intense. It's doubly hard, but it's also doubly good."

Ratliff, after two years in Youngstown, became the head coach of South Central High School, then Indian Lake High School, then Bucyrus High School.

He reunited with Gottfried in Kansas in 1984, serving as the recruiting coordinator for two years, until the two men moved east to Pittsburgh.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 1/23/45. Hometown: Crestline, Ohio. Alma Mater: Morehead State '72. Married to the former Barbara DeRodes and father of Rob (19) and Becci (15).

RAY OLIVER
Assistant Strength Coach

Ray Oliver had heard of the tradition. "The Pitt Iron Works," sweat, dedication, intensity, Fralic, Covert, Grimm. He realized the opportunities it offered.

"They're tough kids here at Pitt. They look at lifting as a necessity," Oliver said, after accepting the challenge of assistant strength coach when Mike Gottfried presented it. "That makes my job easier."

Oliver has been associated with Gottfried since 1981, when he was a redshirt junior at Cincinnati and Gottfried was the head coach. Gottfried moved to Kansas a year later, naming Oliver his head strength coach.

He was in Kansas for two years, earning his degree in 1986, and traveled east with Gottfried last winter, to work under head strength coach Buddy Morris.

"I knew of the reputation at Pitt," says Oliver, a defensive back at Ohio State for two seasons. "I enjoy it here. Buddy and I do a lot of things that complement each other. We work well together."

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 6/19/61. Hometown: Cincinnati, Ohio. Alma Mater: Kansas '86. Married to the former Winone Person, a secretary in the Pitt Football Office.

Graduate Assistants

John Brown | John Kukalis

Graduate assistant coaches are go-fers for the full-time coaches on a college football program. They want to be coaches when they complete their educations, so they learn from the ground up, performing all kinds of chores and detail work and scouting and helping with the coaching. And they attend graduate school at the same time.

Returning to the cast for the 1986 season is former Pitt pass-catcher John Brown, best known for making the game-winning TD catch of a pass thrown by Danny Marino in the last minute of Pitt's 24-20 victory over Georgia in the Sugar Bowl that capped the 1981 season.

Brown, from Lower Burrell, will be joined by John Kukalis, of East Vandergrift, who lettered as a defensive lineman at Pitt last season; Larry Petroff, from Cleveland, and Rick Denstorff from Western Kentucky.

1986 OUTLOOK

The 1986 football season at the University of Pittsburgh represents a new start for everyone, from Head Coach Mike Gottfried and his staff all the way down the line. Everyone has something to prove at Pitt this fall.

"Mike Gottfried has got to prove himself, and the players have to do the same thing," said the first year coach. "Even if a player has been a three-year starter, we want to see what he can do for us before he can get on that field."

Gottfried has made a quick start at establishing his own mark on this football team. He's the boss, no doubt about it, and he's told everyone as clearly as can be just what he expects.

"From what I have seen in the time I've been here," says Coach Gottfried, "there's a high expectation level here. I like that. I can make a lot of promises, but eventually we have to kick the ball off. So my only promise is that we'll play hard and exciting football.

"We will have a team that's going to play together, unselfishly, and we'll play hard.

"We're going to have one set of rules. We have a structured program and we expect everyone to be a part of that. As a coach, you have a responsibility to teach responsibility, and discipline, and what's expected of everybody. Certainly, it's not going to help us to lose players, but we're going to do this the right way."

Gottfried said he realizes he has been branded as a passing coach, but he wants to clarify that. "Sure, I favor the passing game, and I always have, but if we have good runners here — and we should if everybody does what they have to do to be ready to play — we're going to run that ball, too. And I'll make sure we get the ball to the people who can run the ball best — whether we hand the ball off to them, or throw them a quick pitch, or a pass in the wing. We'll do whatever we can do best to move that ball, and get it into the end zone."

Offensively, Pitt will retain its pro-type attack. Defensively, Gottfried is switching the alignment from a 5-2 to a 4-3 front, the first time since Johnny Majors came to Pitt in 1973 that the defense will have a different look.

OFFENSE

SPLIT END — "Our receivers are still a question mark," said Coach Gottfried. "That's an area where we made tremendous improvement during the spring session, but we need more receivers than Pitt has had in the past to do what we want to do." Heading the list are letterwinners Reggie Williams and Michael Stewart, along with redshirt freshman Darrin Gillaspie who was a spring standout. Williams, a sophomore, came on strong during the second half of last season and had nine receptions for 125 yards. Stewart, a tall, rangy junior, finished third on the team in receptions with 13 catches for 209 yards, and a team-leading 16.1 yards per catch average. He was a camp standout a year ago. A sleeper could be Mark Stanton, a sophomore, who caught the only pass thrown his way all season for a 29-yard TD (from John Cummings) at Rutgers.

FLANKER — Coach Gottfried was looking to seniors Chuck Scales and Matt Stennett to provide leadership and long-distance gains. But Stennett signed a major league baseball contract with the Houston Astros after being selected in the draft last spring. "Matt had speed and experience, so he'll be missed," said Gottfried. Scales topped the team last season with 34 catches for 446 yards (13.1 average) and four touchdowns. Billy Osborn, a high school quarterback, and a defensive back at Pitt previously, switched to wide receiver in the spring and was a standout in scrimmages. A redshirt freshman, John Murray, and a junior, Mark DeBeary, bear watching.

OFFENSIVE LINE — "The offensive line is a strength, but the depth there concerns me," said Coach Gottfried. He and offensive coordinator Mike Solari share the highest regard for returning tackle Randy Dixon. "He's an All-American candidate," said Solari. "He has outstanding strength, quickness and great work habits." The right side of the line will be tough, with a potentially great guard lining up alongside Dixon. That's sophomore Mark Stepnoski. "He shows potential to eventually be an All-American lineman, too," said Solari. "He had an outstanding freshman year." Chip Backauskas is back at center, where he started late last season, and it is hoped that Ed Miller, who missed last season and the spring session while recuperating from knee surgery, will be able to compete for a starting job. Junior Bob Sign, who can play guard or center, leads the left guard contingent. Sophomore Tom Ricketts is the top candidate to start at left tackle. He was recruited with expectations of eventually replacing All-American Bill Fralic. Sophomore John Matarazzo and junior Chuck Williams, who have missed much action because of leg hurts, could help, as will three redshirt freshmen, Dean Caliguire, Roman Matusz and Bill Cherpak, all star scholastic players just two years ago. If they come through, Gottfried's concerns about depth will be assuaged.

TIGHT END — This is a big question mark, and the position will be wide open going into the opener. Junior David Shuck, who lettered two years ago, came out of the spring session as the starter. Pat Schipani has been scratched because of recurrent knee problems. Keep an eye on Vernon Kirk, who has been switched from linebacker, who returns after regaining eligibility. Redshirt freshman Tom Huebner, 6-6, is an imposing target.

FULLBACK — Tom Brown is back, and that means Pitt will have a first-rate runner and blocker at this position, if Brown can stay healthy. The senior stalwart is determined to finish with a flourish. Craig Heyward can play here as well as at tailback, his natural position. Matt LaVigna moved from linebacker this spring, and could surprise.

TAILBACK — The Panthers should have the best 1-2-3 combination in the country if everyone is back and set to go. Craig Heyward is back after sitting out a season, and was the star of the spring term. As a freshman, he topped the team with 539 yards. Gladman is one of the nation's top returning running backs. Last season, Gladman became the first Pitt sophomore since Tony Dorsett to crack the 1,000 yard mark (with 1,085). He nursed an injury through much of the spring session and missed valuable practice time. So did Brian Davis, the third-leading rusher last season as a freshman with 298 yards and a 5 yards per carry average, who was held out of spring practice as a disciplinary measure. Coach Gottfried is hopeful that all will be mentally and physically prepared to play.

QUARTERBACK — "Quarterback is a big question mark," said Coach Gottfried, "but whoever handles the quarterback position will be successful." John Congemi, who ranks second only to Danny Marino in Pitt career passing record charts, is back for a fifth season, granted an extra year of eligibility by the NCAA. Congemi showed great promise as a sophomore, but his junior and senior seasons were disappointing in terms of delivering winning efforts. He is determined to go out on a winning note. His backup, junior Joe Felitsky, returns. Congemi and Felitsky figure to be challenged by newcomer Sal Genilla, a record-setting junior college thrower who was rated the team's No. 1 passer after spring practice by Coach Gottfried, and highly-rated freshman Larry Wanke.

DEFENSE

END — The move to a 4-3 defense will make the ends more legitimate, and less like linebackers. It's thought it will bring out the best in Tony Woods, a senior who is being looked upon for leadership and a fiercer pass rush. He, Dixon and linebacker Steve Apke are tri-captains and All-American candidates. "Tony Woods is as good a football player as I've been around," said defensive coordinator John Fox. "He's an impact player." Woods topped the team last year with 15 sacks and was second in tackles with 93 (57 unassisted). Burt Grossman and Jon Carter are the other top candidates. Both are big and quick. Others are Kevin Wortham, Charley Swink and Aleem Abu Bakr.

TACKLE — The most solidly established returnee here is Walter "The Rock" Johnson, a senior who has lettered for three years, and has been a starter most of the last two seasons. Competing for the other tackle slot should be sophomore Anthony Siragusa. Assistant head coach Chuck Klausing believes Siragusa could be sensational. Lorenzo Freeman is a junior who should be ready to take the big step — nobody has a bigger step on the team — forward and assert himself. Redshirt freshmen David DiTommaso and Mark Pearce are promising. Fifth year senior John Rees must stay healthy to get his shot.

LINEBACKER — "Linebacker was a big question mark when we started this spring," said defensive coordinator John Fox. "Steve Apke is the most experienced one there. We feel good about him; he's kinda like a coach on the field. The most pleasant surprise has been Jerry Olsavsky at middle linebacker. He was named our most improved player on defense, justifiably so. He has instincts and savvy to play middle linebacker in our defense. Zeke Gadson has played a lot of positions since he's been here, but he's taken to the weakside linebacker slot. He has the size and speed, a lot of tools, and he showed steady improvement. Jerry Wall will see a lot of time, and Darrel Woods will push for time there. We're learning a new scheme, going from 5-2 to 4-3, but the nucleus is there."

SECONDARY — Junior Teryl Austin is the ace here, and moves from cornerback to free safety, where his far-ranging speed and skills should be even better showcased. He was among the national leaders last year in interceptions with seven. The stickout in the spring session was junior college transfer Gary Richard who should start at right corner. Billy Owens and Reggie Smith are competing for a strong safety spot. Quintin Jones and Keith Tinsley are competing for the left corner spot. Chris Ross is a reliable second year defender who will find a place to play.

KICKERS — The kicking game remains a question mark, but help is expected from the freshman class. Two of three kicking specialists return. There's junior Mark Brasco, who handles placement kicks and must bounce back from an off season and senior Pat Viancourt, who handles kickoffs. Some newcomers could push for all three starting positions.

1986 PROSPECTUS

LETTERMEN:
Returning 41 (16 offense, 23 defense, 2 specialists) including 15 starters (7 offense, 6 defense). Four of the lettermen are from the 1984 season and were sidelined last season.

PROBABLE STRONG SPOTS:
Running backs, quarterbacks and the offensive and defensive lines

AREAS OF CONCERN:
Team speed and quickness, receivers, tight ends, linebackers, secondary and overall kicking game

PLAYERS WHO SHOULD RECEIVE ALL-AMERICA CONSIDERATION:

Randy Dixon, Senior Offensive Tackle
"I've been very impressed with him in conditioning workouts," said Coach Mike Gottfried. "He's got what it takes to be a great one." Dixon has been a starter since his freshman season, and has impressed pro scouts with his size and skills. Pitt has turned out some great offensive linemen in recent seasons in Mark May, Russ Grimm, Rob Fada, Ron Sams, Jimbo Covert, Emil Boures, Jim Sweeney and Bill Fralic, and Dixon is in the same mold.

Tony Woods, Senior Defensive End
All-East last year and looking for national honors this time around. He came to Pitt because of what Hugh Green accomplished for the Panthers, and wanted to do the same. Was sensational in several games last year, and topped team with 15 sacks and was second to linebacker Steve Apke with 57 unassisted tackles and 93 altogether.

Charles Gladman, Junior Running Back
Became the first sophomore since Tony Dorsett (1974) to rush for more than 1,000 yards in a season, leading the Panthers with 1,085. He averaged 5.6 yards on 194 attempts and scored six touchdowns. He missed one game with an injury, otherwise his totals would have been even more impressive.

Teryl Austin, Junior Free Safety
Finished fifth in nation with seven interceptions. Best athlete in secondary and seems to have a knack for getting to the ball. Returned those interceptions for 186 yards.

NEW FACES TO WATCH:
Bill Cherpak, freshman offensive lineman
Darrin Gillaspie, freshman receiver
Sal Genilla, junior quarterback
Burt Grossman, sophomore defensive end
Jerry Olsavsky, sophomore linebacker
Chris Ross, sophomore cornerback
Mark Stepnoski, sophomore offensive lineman
Reggie Williams, sophomore receiver

PITT COACHING STAFF:

Even when Pitt prevailed, 21-14, at Navy in 1983, Midshipman Napoleon McCallum rushed for 172 yards, most against Pitt by any back since 1971 . . . in 1976, Heisman Trophy winner Tony Dorsett set the NCAA career rushing record with a 32-yard fourth quarter touchdown to complete a 42-0 rout by Pitt.

GAME NOTES: The last time the University of Miami visited Pitt Stadium was during the Panthers' 1976 national championship season, as Pitt won 36-19. Tony Dorsett enjoyed a 200-yard plus afternoon . . . Miami's most recent game with Pittsburgh came in 1984, when the Hurricanes defeated the Panthers by a 27-7 count in the Orange Bowl. On that day, Miami quarterback Bernie Kosar threw for 351 yards (29 of 42) while he eclipsed Jim Kelly's all-time career passing yardage mark . . . There are currently three Hurricane coaches who have ties to Pitt. Head football coach Jimmy Johnson was the defensive coordinator for the Panthers from 1977 to 1978, before leaving to accept the head coaching position at Oklahoma State. Miami defensive coordinator Dave Wannstedt captained the 1973 Fiesta Bowl Pitt squad and later returned to coach at Pittsburgh as a graduate assistant. Miami offensive line coach Tony Wise was a Panther aide in 1977 and 1978.

PITT 31 — PURDUE 30

PITTSBURGH (August 31) — In this historical debut of the first night game ever played at Pitt Stadium, the Panthers pulled out a 31-30 victory over Purdue in an exciting season-opener, seen by a national television audience on ESPN. The lead changed hands four times in the first half, but near the end of the second quarter, Pitt tight end Clint Wilson caught a five-yard pass from John Congemi to put Pitt ahead 21-10. But the Panthers' offense stalled in the third quarter, and when Ray Wallace grabbed a ten-yard pass from Jim Everett, Purdue led, 24-21. Charles Gladman, who had 163 yards rushing on 24 carries, scored early in the fourth quarter on a ten-yard run, giving Pitt a permanent lead. Mark Brasco kicked a 43-yard field goal, the eventual gamewinner, and the insurance needed before a 31-yard Everett to Wallace touchdown pass late in the game stunned the 50,103 fans. An incomplete two-point conversion pass from Everett to Jack Beery thwarted the Boilermakers' efforts.

OHIO STATE

GAME 2

OHIO STATE 10 — PITT 7

COLUMBUS, OHIO (September 14) — Pitt played a strong game but lost a heartbreaker in a return to the strong defensive games of the past. Pitt and Ohio State cracked shoulder pads for most of the game.

The Panthers drove on their first possession of the game to Ohio State's 28-yard line, but Charles Gladman fumbled on the next play after a brilliant 28-yard run. After Mark Brasco missed two 31-yard field goal attempts, John Congemi passed to Chuck Scales for a 14-yard touchdown, giving Pitt a 7-3 lead. But two possessions later, Jim Karsatos marched Ohio State (a team missing its Heisman Trophy candidate, tailback Keith Byars), down the field for the winning score.

BOSTON COLLEGE 29 — PITT 22

PITTSBURGH (September 21) — A brilliant debut by Brian Davis was obscured by a 51-yard touchdown pass from Shawn Halloran to Kelvin Martin with only 1:21 left to play, shocking the 40,022 fans at Pitt Stadium.

Mark Brasco opened the game with a 22-yard field goal, but Boston College scored 21 unanswered points to lead 21-3. Enter Davis. The Pitt freshman tailback opened his college career by rushing for 100 yards and one touchdown, a spinning 26-yard run. Pitt battled back to lead on a 20-yard pass from John Congemi to Chuck Scales, but that quickly changed on the next series.

WEST VIRGINIA

PITT 10 — WEST VIRGINIA 10

GAME 4

MORGANTOWN, W.V. (September 28) — Another excellent effort by the Pitt defense was countered by an unproductive second-half offense as Pitt tied West Virginia 10-10.

Mark Brasco kicked a 20-yard field goal and John Congemi dove in from one-yard out to give Pitt a 10-0 halftime lead. But the Pitt offense, plagued with fumble problems all afternoon, could not move the ball in the second half. It finished the day with six fumbles — losing three — and missed two field goals. Charlie Baumann kicked a 32-yard field goal for West Virginia, and Tony Reda, who replaced John Talley at quarterback for West Virginia, scored the tying touchdown on a one-yard plunge with 4:38 remaining in the game.

GAME 5

"Gamecocks"

PITTSBURGH (October 5) — Pitt, needing a victory to sustain its dream of a winning season, played its most important game of the year against South Carolina, a team also in need of a victory. Pitt had one of its finest performances in two years, routing the Gamecocks 42-7.

For the first time in the season, both the offense and defense were effective in the same game. Pitt assumed a quick 14-0 lead on touchdown runs by A.B. Brown and John Congemi, and increased its halftime lead to 21-7 on A.B. Brown's second touchdown of the afternoon. South Carolina's only score was an 80-yard pass from Mike Hold to Raynard Brown.

NORTH CAROLINA STATE

GAME 6

PITT 24 — NORTH CAROLINA STATE 14

PITTSBURGH (Oct. 12) — A decided underdog, North Carolina State surprised a lackadaisical Pitt team on the third play of the game — an 80-yard pass from Erik Kramer to Phil Brothers — and it took the Panthers nearly three quarters to awaken.

A 34-yard field goal by Kelly Hollodick gave North Carolina State a 10-0 lead, but Pitt fought back to tie the game late in the first half on a seven-yard run by Charles Gladman and a 35-yard field goal by Mark Brasco. The game remained knotted until the fourth quarter, when Brian Davis scored on a 23-yard run and Tony Woods recovered a fumble in the end zone.

North Carolina State was held to just 14 yards rushing on 38 attempts.

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (October 19) — A 98-yard interception return by John "Ducky"Lewis late in the fourth quarter grabbed momentum and any chance of a victory away from Rutgers at Giants Stadium.

Pitt assumed a 21-3 lead on a two-yard run by Charles Gladman, a one-yard run by Tom Brown and a five-yard run by John Congemi. But Scott Drake caught a one-yard touchdown pass from Eric Hochberg midway through the fourth quarter, making the score 21-10.

NAVY

GAME 8

NAVY 21 — PITT 7

ANNAPOLIS, M.D. (October 26) — An inspired Naval Academy humbled Pitt, 21-7, seriously jeopardizing any hope the Panthers had of reaching a bowl game. Napoleon McCallum, the Navy Heisman Trophy candidate, rushed for 122 yards on 34 carries and scored two touchdowns. His first score came midway through the first quarter on a one-yard run. Pitt responded by tying the game on a three-yard pass from John Congemi to Bob Lawson. But early in the second quarter, McCallum sprinted in from six yards away to give the Midshipmen a permanent lead. Bill Byrne scored Navy's final touchdown on a one-yard run. Pitt, the third leading defense in the country against the rush, allowed 193 yards on the ground.

SYRACUSE

GAME 9

SYRACUSE 12 — PITT 0

PITTSBURGH (November 2) — It was simple. Syracuse outplayed Pitt, the Orangemen beat the Panthers 12-0. Nothing fancy. Just hard, aggressive, run right-at-'em football in a torrential downpour. It was the first time Pitt had been shut out at home since 1975, when Navy beat the Panthers 17-0.

Syracuse quarterback Don McPherson stymied the Pitt defense all afternoon, running the option game nearly to perfection, leading the offense to 273 yards rushing. Don McAuley kicked two field goals in the first half to give the Orangemen a 6-0 lead, and late in the fourth quarter, Bob Drummond scored on a four-yard run.

PENN STATE

GAME 11

PENN STATE 31 — PITT 0

PITTSBURGH (November 23) — It was a chance for revenge. The players remembered 1981, when Pitt was 10-0 and the top-ranked team in the country, when Penn State humiliated the Panthers 48-14.

It was Penn State which was the No. 1 team in the country on this cold November night, and it remained in that position, humbling Pitt 31-0 in a nationally televised game by ESPN and a sellout crowd of 60,134.

An inspired Pitt team held Penn State scoreless in the first quarter, but D.J. Dozier scored on a seven-yard run early in the second period. A few minutes later, Tim Manoa, a husky fullback, outran the Panthers' defense for a 60-yard touchdown. Pete Giftopoulos gave the Nittany Lions a 21-0 lead when he recovered a fumble in the end zone.

GOLDEN GIRLS

Nowadays, "The Golden Girls" is a hit TV sitcom, but for the past decade the University of Pittsburgh has boasted of a beautiful precision dancing troupe that has paraded at halftime at Pitt football games and, at times, basketball games. These young women perform choreographed routines, and are a much-appreciated part of the color and pageantry that sets college football apart from the pro game.

PITT BANDS

O'Neill Sanford
Director of Bands

The University of Pittsburgh Marching Band is talented, renowned, and progressive.

In this, its 75th anniversary, it will entertain with nearly 200 performers, including 40 color guard members and Golden Girls.

These young musicians, directed by O'Neill Sanford and his staff, serve as a vital tool in generating fan interest and enthusiasm at sporting events.

There is a special excitement when the band scripts "Pitt" as it plays "Hail to Pitt" before the game, or when it blasts the "Pitt Victory Song" after a touchdown.

A dedicated, hard-working crew that travels with the football team at least twice a year, the band will be on the road this season in South Bend, Ind., and State College, Pa., at the Notre Dame and Penn State games.

It also contributes in pep rallies, the annual Homecoming parade, and at Golden Panther functions.

In the second half of the school year, a.k.a. after football, the pep and concert bands begin playing at various functions of the University, including shaking the steel and concrete of Fitzgerald Field House during basketball games.

It has become nearly a year-round activity for most of the band members, as they report to band camp two weeks prior to the start of school and undergo 12 hours of rehearsal a day, preparing for the pre-game and halftime shows.

O'NEILL SANFORD Director of Bands

O'Neill Sanford is entering his second year as the Director of Bands.

He came here in the spring of 1985 from the University of Minnesota, where he served as band director for nine years. He had previously worked at Mississippi Valley State College and Sevier (La.) High School.

Sanford received his degree in music education from Southern University, and his Master's Degree from Vandercook College of Music.

David Moy

DAVID MOY Associate Director of Bands

David Moy came to Pitt two years ago from Minnesota, where he was the assistant marching band director for five years.

At Pitt, Moy's responsibilities include overseeing the percussion section, writing drill maneuvers, and administration.

The University of Pittsburgh Marching Band administration is boosted with the help of five assistants, who work endless hours on the administrative side as well as on the actual production of each band performance.

The assistant directors are Ron Tassone, choreographer of the Golden Girls; Jack Anderson, administrative assistant; Mel Orange, who teaches and works primarily with the brass; Dan Yadeski, a teaching assistant who works with the percussion and Linda Rittenhouse, who also teaches the color guard.

CAPITAL CAMPAIGN

While striving to renew the rich tradition of Pitt football, the University of Pittsburgh is also attempting to revitalize its Marching Band in an effort to make it one of the nation's best.

Last fall, the University launched a fund-raising project to accomplish this goal through the Capital Campaign.

The monetary goal of the Capital Campaign is to raise $300,000 to provide uniforms and a matched set of quality instruments.

Since the campaign began, it has brought in nearly $150,000 and has been expanded to include all Pitt fans, friends and alumni.

A major portion of the funds has already been used to purchase new uniforms for the band and some new instruments, which will add to the half-time flair.

By bringing in O'Neill Sanford, a highly respected and successful band director, the University has already honored its commitment to have a quality, first-class band. Through the Capital Campaign fund-raising drive, Pitt fans can continue to enjoy the entertainment provided by the Band over the years.

ALUMNI BAND

These former band members still represent the university, performing at various functions.

They will combine with the Pitt Band during halftime of the annual Band Alumni Day, October 4, this year.

The alumni band has also been instrumental in developing the capital campaign fund, accruing monies for new uniforms.

BATON EXCHANGE — O'Neill Sanford shakes hands with former longtime Pitt band director Bob "Ace" Arthur.

Officers of the 1986 Band Alumni Association are: J. Robert Glunt, president; Harold McHail, vice-president; William Whigham, secretary; and Aldo Zini, treasurer.

THE PITT BAND, the Alumni Band and the cheerleaders get the Golden Panthers' pre-game brunches at Fitzgerald Field House off to a rollicking start.

Theresa Rosa Nuzzo
Head Cheerleading Coach

Theresa and Mike Nuzzo entered as the cheerleading coaches at the University of Pittsburgh three years ago, smiling, looking camera pretty. They were young, progressive, stylish.

In their portfolio were ideas, ideas they felt would vault Pitt into the national cheerleading elite. Routines as brash and bold as the Nuzzos themselves.

In 1984, the Pitt cheerleaders won the Northeast Division and placed in the top ten of the Universal Cheerleaders Association Collegiate Nationals in Honolulu.

They traveled to Florida a year later, again as the Northeast representative, and returned as one of the top 12 cheerleading squads in the country.

This is a different side of cheerleading, but the competitive execution is displayed at every football and basketball game, at the Homecoming parade, and at civic and community events.

The 1986 Pitt Cheerleaders are hoping to continue in that upwardly-mobile Nuzzo direction.

THE PANTHER MASCOT

The Panther (felis concolor) was adopted as the University of Pittsburgh's mascot at a meeting of student and alumni leaders in the early autumn of 1909. According to George M. P. Baird, '09, who made the suggestion, it was chosen for the following reasons: (1) the Panther was the most formidable creature once indigenous to the Pittsburgh region; (2) it had ancient, heraldic standing as a noble animal; (3) the happy accident of alliteration; (4) the close approximation of its hue to the old gold of the University's colors (old gold and blue), hence its easy adaptability in decoration; and (5) the fact that no other college or university then employed it as a symbol.

The Pitt Bicentennial: Celebrating the Future, Remembering the Past

Quick, who won the 1976 Heisman Trophy for rushing more than 5,177 yards and spurring his team to an undefeated season, a Sugar Bowl victory, and the national championship? And for which school did he do all of this? Right, Tony Dorsett and the University of Pittsburgh.

Now, for the bonus question: How old is the University of Pittsburgh? Right again, 200 years old and not many American universities can say that.

Pitt's Bicentennial is a celebration of all the accomplishments of our faculty and graduates, administration and staff. And there's plenty to celebrate.

It was at Pitt that scientists first unlocked the secrets of Saturn's rings and unearthed the oldest evidence of human occupation in the New World.

It was at Pitt that a vaccine for polio was first developed. Thanks to a team of Pitt scientists — Jonas E. Salk, Julius Youngner, L. James Lewis, Byron L. Bennett, Percival L. Bazely and Lurich Krech — polio is no longer the dreaded crippler it once was. Salk will be returning to the University on November 6 to participate in the School of Medicine's Centennial Distinguished Lecture Series.

Pitt is still at the forefront of the medical field. Countless lives will be saved through the contributions of Dr. Thomas Starzl and the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine in the field of organ transplantation.

It was at Pitt, in 1929, that the tallest educational building in the free world, the Cathedral of Learning, was built. The Cathedral, the dream of Chancellor John G. Bowman, is more than just classrooms and offices, however. It houses a monument, in the form of the famed Nationality Rooms, to 19 countries whose people built Pittsburgh, and our nation.

Over 25,000 people tour these rooms yearly, making them one of the most visited spots on campus. This October, Pitt celebrates the 60th anniversary of the Nationality Rooms with a huge ethnic festival in the Cathedral. Singers and dancers in ethnic dress will participate and the nationality committees will serve up some of the best in international food.

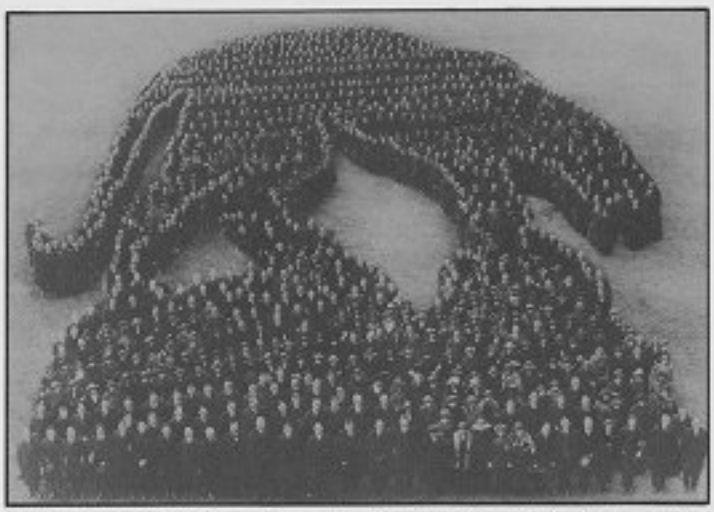
Pitt has also contributed its share to the arts. The Writers' Conference has brought such literary figures as Katharine Anne Porter, Saul Bellow and E.L. Doctorow to campus. Joseph Heller (Catch-22) will headline this year's event.

Pitt is home to the International Academy of Jazz Hall of Fame and the annual jazz seminar brings the best in jazz to Pittsburgh every fall. Dr. Nathan Davis, Director of Jazz Studies at Pitt, began the seminars in 1970 and is still the chief organizer. Jazz greats such as James Moody, Grover Washington, Jr., Ron Carter and Sonny Rollins have participated in the past and this fall's event is sure to attract equally illustrious musicians.

Pitt has also been tops in the acting world. An annual summer Shakespeare festival stages some of the world's best-loved drama. And who can forget Pitt graduate Gene Kelly in the Academy Award-winning "An American in Paris" movie.

Pitt athletes have provided us with the thrill of victory more often than the agony of defeat. A pair of Pitt tracksters have achieved the ultimate athletic triumph. In 1936, runner John Woodruff won a gold medal in the Berlin Olympics. In 1984, hurdler Roger Kingdom struck gold in Los Angeles. Today, sprinter Lee McRae is a world-record holder and looking toward 1988.

And, of course, the Panther football program has long been a powerhouse in the sport, winning many national championships. In addition to Dorsett, former Pitt players Dan Marino, Bill Maas and Bill Fralic are all stars in the National Football League.



THE PITT PANTHER — formed by the faculty and students of The University of Pittsburgh, April 9, 1920.

Small wonder that Pitt wants to celebrate its Bicentennial in a big way. Very few American universities are as old as Pitt and very few can boast of as many grand achievements. The celebration will be divided into three core weeks: Homecoming Week in October, Founder's Day Week in February, and Commencement Week in May.

The Bicentennial officially opens October 21, 1986, with the Bicentennial Opening Convocation at the Syria Mosque. The convocation will honor distinguished alumni and friends who have made important contributions to the University. The guest list includes state and local officials, corporate leaders, alumni, representatives of learned societies, presidents of local and regional colleges, and the presidents of member schools of the Association of American Universities (AAU).

In the days immediately preceding the convocation, the AAU will hold its annual meeting at Pitt. The AAU is comprised of the top research universities in the U.S. Pitt was elected to this prestigious organization in 1974.

Homecoming, always a special week at Pitt, will be even more exciting this year. The parade on October 23 is sure to be one of the most colorful student parades ever, with Roy Rogers scheduled to be the grand marshal. After the parade, there will be a spectacular fireworks display and a concert by the Pitt Band.

On October 25, the Panthers and new head coach Mike Gottfried will try to sink the cadets of the U.S. Naval Academy. Pitt Stadium will "go Bicentennial" as the Panthers sport Bicentennial emblems on their uniforms and the field is marked with the Bicentennial logo. The Pitt Band will also salute the University with its special Bicentennial half-time show.

But Homecoming is not the end. The Bicentennial festivities continue until the commencement ceremony on May 10, 1987. Highlighting the rest of the celebration will be symposia, a Bicentennial Ball, and performances by the Pittsburgh Symphony, the Juilliard String Quartet, and the River City Brass Band.

The Bicentennial celebration will showcase Pitt's history and accomplishments but, perhaps most importantly, it will celebrate the world of possibilities Pitt has opened up to more than 10 generations of men and women, a world accessible only through the privilege of education.

The past 200 years have only been the start.

PITTSBURGH'S THE ONE

Don't just take our word for it. Pittsburgh was rated the most liveable city in America in the latest Places Rated Almanac, published by Rand McNally.

Nine criteria — including several of direct concern to students — such as educational institutions, music and sports facilities, theaters, restaurants, discos, boutiques, major department stores and low crime rate were used to measure the quality of life in the country's 329 largest metropolitan areas.

Pittsburgh emerged as No. 1, supporting what those who live here have known all along: this is an exemplary city in combining big-city excitement with small-town friendliness.

Pittsburgh is alive, colorful, sophisticated — a city of progress and energy. The streets are filled with people going places and doing things. Day and night. Weekdays and weekends. All year long.

Pitt is a big part of Pittsburgh, indeed the city's No. 1 employer. And Pitt sports teams rank right up there with the Steelers, Pirates and Penguins for creating excitement in America's No. 1 city.

DR. WESLEY W. POSVAR
PRESIDENT

The University of Pittsburgh will begin a year-long celebration of its bicentennial this fall — 200 years of academic excellence. The institution and its president are ready.

"The bicentennial offers all of us a fine opportunity to look back and take stock of where we are and where we're going," says Dr. Wesley W. Posvar, now in his 20th year as Pitt's president. "We can look back with pride at our achievements and our consequent strengths and our goals for the future. One source of pride must be that our department of athletics has achieved a sound combination of commitment to academic success measured in grades and graduations and successful performance in competition."

Dr. Posvar demonstrated in his own college career that success in athletics can complement high academic attainment. He was a college athlete at the United States Military Academy at West Point (Class of '46), where he also graduated first in his class, achieving one of the Academy's all-time highest academic records. Winning a Rhodes Scholarship to Oxford, he earned master's degrees in philosophy, politics and economics. At Harvard he earned an M.S. in public administration and a Ph.D. in political science.

As an Air Force pilot, Dr. Posvar conducted test flights on some of the earliest jets, and later flew in the Berlin airlift. He served on the strategic planning staff at the Pentagon and later headed the Political Science Department and the Social Sciences Division at the Air Force Academy. Dr. Posvar was named one of the Ten Outstanding Young Men in the United States by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1959.

"A great university," President Posvar has emphasized, "doesn't just contribute to the cultural life or athletic scene of a city; it is also a major force in the economic vitality of its regions." Posvar was instrumental in negotiating the $100 million Gulf/Chevron gift to Pitt, through which the 54-building Gulf research facility will become a center of research, development and high tech production.

Mrs. Posvar sings professionally as Mildred Miller, a mezzo-soprano who is internationally acclaimed as a recording artist and Lieder singer and who was a principal artist for twenty-three years at the Metropolitan Opera. An active civic leader, she is founder and Artist Director of the Pittsburgh Opera Theater.

The Posvars have three children: Wesley, Marina, and Lisa.

DR. EDWARD E. BOZIK
DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Dr. Edward E. Bozik, a man with broad management and administrative experience in both academics and athletics, became the Director of Athletics at the University of Pittsburgh on September 1, 1982.

As athletics director, Dr. Bozik has responded to the initial guidance of President Wesley Posvar. Improved academic performances of all student-athletes was the first priority, and the effort dedicated to that area has paid substantial dividends. The football and men's basketball teams continued to build upon past successes, and other varsity sports for men and women began the advance to championship caliber with Big East Championships in women's volleyball in 1982 and 1984, and in men's and women's swimming in 1983, 1984, 1985 and 1986. Pitt's track and field team gained new respect when NCAA champion Roger Kingdom won a gold medal at the 1984 Olympics in the 110-meter high hurdles, followed by the world record performance of National Champion Lee McRae.

Fund raising has continued to grow during Dr. Bozik's tenure and substantial improvements in the athletics facilities have been completed, including construction of a new athletics administration building in Pitt Stadium, continued improvements in Fitzgerald Field House, including new offices and a players' lounge; and a new grass practice field for football and soccer.

Dr. Bozik has been active as a member of the NCAA Executive Committee, Chairman of the Division I Championships Committee and NCAA Television Committee.

Dr. Bozik is a native of Donora, Pa. A 1946 graduate of Donora High School, he received his B.S. from California University of Pennsylvania in 1953 and later earned his Ph.D. in Political Science from Georgetown University.

Commitment in education runs throughout the Bozik family. Wife JoAn, a native of California, Pa., holds a Master's Degree in speech pathology and deaf education and a Ph.D. in educational and developmental psychology.

The Bozik children are also continuing the educational commitment. Daughter Peggy Jo holds undergraduate music and psychology degrees from Pitt and also is a graduate of the Pitt Law School. Son Michael, a Notre Dame graduate, is a fourth year student at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine. Son Tim, another Notre Dame graduate, is employed by Prentice-Hall.

Dr. Bozik's mother, Mrs. Ann Bozik, retired several years ago from her duties at the Scotland, Pennsylvania, School for Veterans' Children.

W. DEAN BILLICK
Associate Director of Athletics

Dean Billick begins his 21st year in the Athletic Department and has made a steady progression in the administration since joining the University as Sports Information Director in 1966.

A native of Grove City, Pa., Billick earned his Bachelor of Arts degree in journalism from Penn State University in 1963 where he was sports editor of the Daily Collegian. Following graduation from Penn State, he served as a reporter for the Sharon Herald (Pa.), City Editor of the Centre Daily Times (Pa.) and Sports Information Director at Bucknell University before being named Sports Information Director at Pitt.

During his tenure as Sports Information Director at Pitt, his publications won numerous national honors and he helped produce 20 first-team football All-Americans, a Heisman Trophy winner, a Heisman Trophy runner-up, an Outland Trophy winner, a Lombardi Award winner and a first-team basketball All-American.

In 1980, Billick was appointed to fill the newly-created position of Associate Athletics Director for Public Affairs, and when Dr. Bozik was selected as Athletics Director in 1983 he designated Dean as his Associate Director of Athletics. In that capacity he has been involved in nearly all areas of the Department, plus dealing specifically with Pitt's men's and women's varsity sports programs and men's basketball. Additionally, this past year he was involved with the advisory committees to help select Pitt's new football and basketball coaches.

Dean is married to Pam Leydig, an account executive for 3WS/WTKN Radio in Pittsburgh.

GOLDEN PANTHERS

Strong athletic programs have played a vital role in the storied history of the University of Pittsburgh, now celebrating its 200th anniversary.

The pride brought about by Pitt athletics has tremendous effects across the nation, and it has lured many young men and women — and not just athletes — to attend, follow and become fans of the University.

The vitality of this program comes from a successful blend of three sources: good people, good facilities and good funding.

Pitt athletics have been fortunate to have many outstanding participants and coaches through the years. And Pitt fans make up a tradition unparalleled in this area of the country. These are the good people who are at the heart of this success.

Pitt has been able to improve its facilities, fund most of its non-revenue producing sports, and set an upbeat tone for continued success in sports through the fund-raising efforts of the Pitt Golden Panthers.

Its primary purpose is to raise funds from public sources for athletic scholarships. These funds are sought from alumni, faculty, staff and friends of the University, and monitored by the administrative staff of the Department of Athletics.

The Golden Panthers have raised over $5 million in just 14 years, and fund nearly 80 per cent of the scholarships for varsity sports.

The Golden Panthers' foremost goal is to provide a base of professional fund-raising services, athletic communications, and other assistance through which alumni, friends, and others may enhance the development and achievements of Pitt's athletics program.

Executive Director Bob Heddleston and his assistant Rosemary Mendel head the staff, but they say it's the work of volunteers who make their efforts successful.

Intercollegiate athletics at Pitt are a major source of pride, unity, and wholesome entertainment for everyone associated with it. It instills a feeling of loyalty and school spirit.

The Golden Panthers organize pre-game and post-game activity and fun, sponsor golf and tennis outings, social events, dinners, awards banquets, auctions, and gala fund-raising programs to put much-needed money in the Pitt coffers and smiles on the faces of Pitt followers.

The Golden Panthers, under the leadership of Eddie Ifft, were responsible for the "Celebration of Excellence" Dinner — the reunion of the 1976 national championship team.

All contributors to the Golden Panthers receive donor credit in the University's Annual Giving Fund and its various giving clubs. Minimum membership is $50 per year.

It has grown from just a few members to more than 6,000 and, hopefully, will continue to grow.

VANITY SHIRT — Golden Panthers executive director Bob Heddleston models a T-shirt with his own likeness on it, with a little help from Dr. Keith Fammartino, at GP auction that raised nearly $80,000 this past year.

AT ANY COST — Fran and Corky Cost were successful bidders on enough sports memorabilia to open their own sports hall of fame in their beautiful Wilkinsburg home, or the offices of Cost Construction Co.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT SERVICES

Paul Yuna | Dave Pistolesi | Lloyd Weston

Heavy demands, both on and off the field, are placed upon all the student-athletes at the University of Pittsburgh. As a student, each member of the football team must take a full schedule of classes, while at the same time practicing, travelling, and competing in the sport.

Because of the University's commitment to both athletic and academic excellence, the Office of Support Services for Student-Athletes was established in 1976 to assist Pitt athletes in making progress toward their degree and achieving academic and personal goals. Today, this service is considered a model of its kind with a wide range of support, which begins with an orientation to the University, its rules and regulations, campus life, and support services. The Office of Support Services offers academic advising, tutoring, the strengthening of learning skills and study habits, and personal and career counseling. Not only is the progress of each athlete monitored, but classroom performance is also monitored, allowing the instructors the opportunity to express the student athlete's needs in his/her class.

The Support Service staff includes two former Pitt football players: Paul Yuna, the Director who is currently pursuing a Ph.D., and Dr. Lloyd Weston, a former football All-America who is responsible for academic and personal counseling. Assisting them in supporting the student-athletes are Dave Pistolesi, the tutorial coordinator; Ruth Davis, the learning skills specialist; two part-time academic advisors, Darlene Cridlin and Dave Hockabout; and Marette Simpson, the coordinator of the daily office functions. All are committed to assisting Pitt's student-athletes in achieving their goals.

BICENTENNIAL Pitt 1787-1987

MEDICAL STAFF

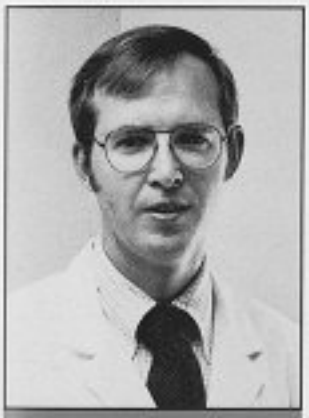
The Panthers receive medical care provided by the University Division of Sports Medicine which sponsors regular sports medicine clinics at Pitt Stadium where Pitt varsity athletes are examined and treated.

Dr. Richard L. Ray serves as team physician and orthopedic surgeon and is assisted by Dr. Freddie Fu. Dr. H. Lee Dameshek, (Internal Medicine), Dr. Joseph Imbriglia (Hand Surgery) and Dr. Paul Nelson (Neurosurgery) provide consultation for the Panther athletes. In addition, a staff of consulting specialists is available at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine to assist in providing top quality medical treatment to more than 500 male and female varsity athletes. Hospital care is provided at Presbyterian-University Hospital.

Prior to any practices or competition, each varsity athlete receives a comprehensive physical examination. The physical well-being of the athletes is monitored during the period of competition and training. Effort is made to provide not only treatment for injury and illness that may occur during the season, but also to provide preventive measures which will make participation as safe as possible.

To achieve these goals, the Division of Sports Medicine boasts a highly qualified staff of certified trainers. Rex Call, who served as the Assistant Football Trainer from 1983-1985, is the new Head Football Trainer. Charlie Thompson, who joined the staff in 1985, is the Assistant Football Trainer.

The University of Pittsburgh offers an N.A.T.A. approved undergraduate curriculum designed to prepare students for the certification examination. This program was established in 1975 and is offered through the School of Education, Program in Health, Physical and Recreation Education.



DR. RICHARD RAY Team Physician

Dr. Richard Ray joined the Pitt athletic staff as the team physician and orthopedic surgeon in 1979.

He studied under a Peabody Fellowship at Massachusetts General Hospital in 1977-78.

Dr. Ray served as a Lt. Commander and Chief of Orthopedics at the U.S. Naval Regional Medical Center in Yokosuka, Japan, from 1974-76 and also at the Naval Submarine Medical Center (Groton, CT) in 1976-77.

He is currently on the staff of Presbyterian-University Hospital, Allegheny General Hospital and Children's Hospital. He is a Clinical Assistant Professor of Orthopedic Surgery at Pitt and Chairman of the medical committee for the Allegheny County Special Olympics. Dr. Ray is a member of the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons, the Orthopedic Research Society, and the American College of Sports Medicine.

Pitt Is It!

How sweet it was when the Panthers, under Coach Johnny Majors, defeated Georgia, 27-3, on New Year's Day at the Sugar Bowl to become the 1976 unanimous national champions and finish with a perfect 12 game winning season. The jubilation was shared by all Pitt friends, fans and alumni as the Panthers won their first national championship since 1937.

REUNION: THE SPIRIT OF '76 LIVES ON

SIGN OF THE TIMES — This was one of the first displays to greet the guests at the Convention Center.

LEADERS — The powers-that-be during the '76 season were President Wesley W. Posvar and former A.D. Casimir Myslinski.

COACHES CONFAB — Johnny Majors, left, who resurrected Pitt football from the ashes in 1973, believes newcomer Mike Gottfried can get similar results as Pitt's head coach.

HONORARY CHAIRMEN — John Pelusi, left, and Tony Dorsett, teammates on that 1976 team that went 12-0 and won the Sugar Bowl, share some pleasant memories at the dais.

'A Night of Pride'

The Golden Panthers' "Celebration of Excellence" Dinner at the David L. Lawrence Convention Center on April 25 was hailed as "a night of pride" by ABC-TV sportscaster Keith Jackson, one of the evening's featured speakers.

It was that and more. It was a reunion of Pitt's 1976 national championship team, led by Coach Johnny Majors and Heisman Trophy winner Tony Dorsett, and about 75 other members of that special unit that brought great glory to Pitt and stamped the program as one of the best in the country.

Nearly 2,500 attended the event, including NFL coaches and Pitt alumni such as Mike Ditka of the Chicago Bears and Marty Schottenheimer of the Cleveland Browns, former NFL and Pitt greats such as Marshall Goldberg, Joe Schmidt, Ave Daniell and Paul Martha, and many present-day NFL standouts.

Keith Jackson summed it up best, extolling the virtues of the team he had described in action during that 1976 season as the ABC-TV play-by-play announcer:

"What a night of pride this is for the University of Pittsburgh, the City of Pittsburgh and college football," he said.

"I think that (Pop) Warner and (Jock) Sutherland would be proud. This is the kind of marketing college football needs. This group is living proof of the values that are available to student-athletes in college football.

"To be No. 1 is something, but when you're a unanimous No. 1, that's really something special.

"You have a new man Mike Gottfried at Pitt who will win. He's done it wherever he's been, and he'll do it here."

GOLDEN EMCEE — WTAE's Bill Hillgrove, "the Voice of the Pitt Panthers," provided professional emcee effort, as always.

GO-GETTERS — Mike Gottfried greets Eddie Ifft, the chairman and the main mover and shaker behind '76 reunion dinner.

MOVING TALK — ABC-TV's Keith Jackson spoke eloquently of the productive role of college football in developing young men.

PITT RANKS 6th IN NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

Elusive. Cantankerous. Agonizing. Dreadful. Wonderful. These are all adjectives used to describe that holiest of grails in college football — the search for No. 1.

To settle countless arguments, Sports Illustrated in 1970 researched the first and only complete and wholly accurate list ever compiled of college football's mythical national champions. Every recognized authority that ever presumed to name a No. 1 is included. They include Parke H. Davis Ratings (1889-1935), the Helms Athletic Foundation (1889-1970), the Dickinson System (1924-1940), the Illustrated Football Annual (1924-1941), The Football Thesaurus (1927-1958), the Dunkel System (1929-1970), the Litkenhous System (1934-1970), The Williamson System (1932-1963), the Associated Press (1936-1970), the United Press International (1950-1970), the Football Writers Association of America (1954-1970), and the National Football Hall of Fame (1959-1970).

DITKA AND PITT — PERFECT TOGETHER

Mike Ditka has always personified Pitt football at its best.

Ditka and Pitt just go together somehow, like the mythical Joe Magarac and steelworkers in southwestern Pennsylvania. They are throwbacks to another era, when smoke was rising from the mills in Ditka's hometown of Aliquippa and everybody took it for granted.

Don't get me wrong. Tony Dorsett, Hugh Green, Danny Marino, Bill Fralic and the Bears' own captain, Jimbo Covert — were terrific football players in their Pitt days, as well as their pro days, but Ditka has been doing it longer, that's all.

It's been a quarter century, in fact, since Ditka was a senior at this school. He was an All-American end during that 1960 season, as much feared for the ferocity of his defensive play as for his pass-catching and blocking ability during the days when players went both ways.

Now he is the NFC Coach of the Year, the winningest coach in the National Football League with a 15-1 regular season record as head coach of the Chicago Bears, and three playoff victories that enabled Chicago to claim the Super Bowl title. In short, Ditka is the kingpin of pro football.

An image of Ditka from that 1960 season still remains in the mind. It's seeing Ditka on the Fifth Avenue porch of the Student Union, wearing his crew-cut hair and his dark blue varsity jacket with the gold "P" on his breast, schoolbooks under his arm, looking every bit the Big Man on Campus (BMOC), which he was, indeed, in his senior season.

That was the year — my freshman year — that the Pirates defeated the mighty New York Yankees in seven games of the World Series — winning the final game in the final inning on Billy Mazeroski's magnificent home run over the left field scoreboard — just across the street from the Student Union at old Forbes Field.

It was a difficult year for the Pitt football team. It was a fine team, but the schedule was a murderous one. The Panthers posted an odd 4-3-3 record. They defeated Miami (17-6), West Virginia (42-0), Syracuse (10-0) and Notre Dame (20-13). They tied Michigan State, TCU and Army, all by 7-7 scores. They lost to UCLA (8-7), Oklahoma (15-14) and Penn State (14-3).

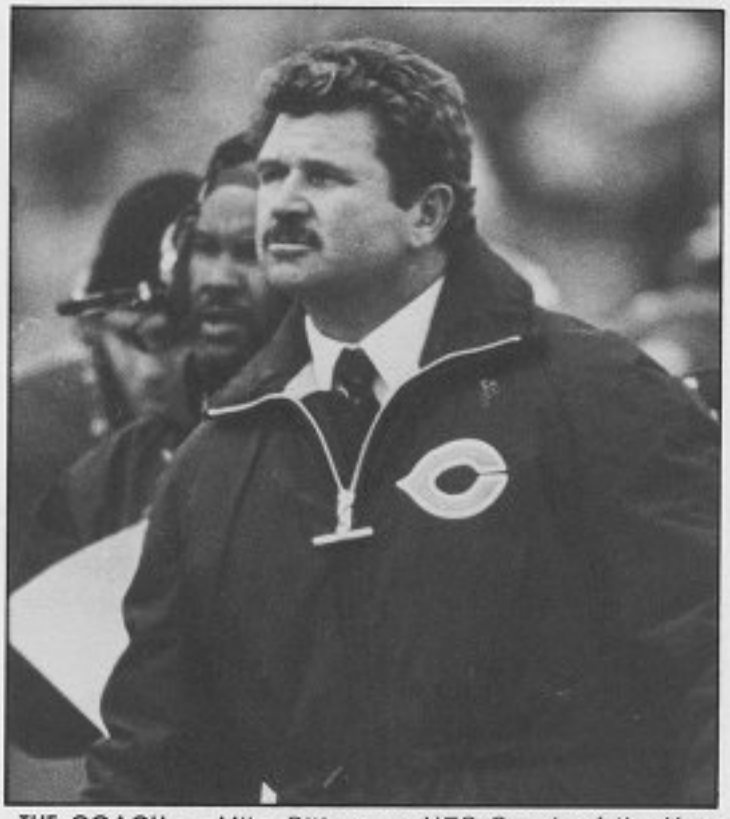
Pitt's assistant athletic director Walt Cummins was a coach back then, an assistant to John Michelosen, and he remembers Ditka well. "He was scrappy, always competitive, always ready to go all out," said Cummins. "He liked to practice hard, and complained if we weren't hitting hard enough. He always came to play."

Ernie Hefferle handled the ends for Michelosen. Hefferle, who retired two years ago after serving as the pro personnel director of the NFL's New Orlean Saints, said of Ditka: "He was the damndest player I ever came across; you get one like him in a lifetime, if you're lucky.

"He used to forearm our own guys in practice. He used to complain that our practices weren't tough enough. He wanted more hitting. All he wanted to do was hit, hit, hit."

Said Bob Timmons, who coached Ditka in football as well as basketball at Pitt: "He'll hit the first guy he sees." That was in both sports.

Ditka lettered for three years in football, and two years in basketball and baseball for the Panthers. He was an outfielder in baseball and an enforcer in basketball, saving his best boardwork for the annual grudge games with West Virginia. He was also the intramural wrestling champion at Pitt. Rex Perry, who coached the varsity wrestling team and the U.S. Olympic team during his days at Pitt, once said Ditka could have been an NCAA wrestling champion.



THE COACH — Mike Ditka won NFC Coach of the Year honors for what he accomplished with the Chicago Bears last season.

He was named first team All-American as a football player in 1960, and was joined by the elite likes of Joe Bellino of Navy, Ernie Davis of Syracuse, Bob Ferguson of Ohio State, E.J. Holub of Texas Tech, Danny Larose of Missouri and Bob Lilly of Texas Christian.

He was also named the winner of the Charles C. Hartwig Award as the senior who did the most to promote the cause of athletics at Pitt.

He was the No. 1 draft choice of the Chicago Bears. He came back to Pittsburgh during the 1963 season, and starred for the Bears in a 17-17 tie with the Steelers. The Steelers were coached by Buddy Parker that year, and quarterbacked by Bobby Layne. They were good, finishing with a 7-4-3 record and losing out on a playoff berth in the final game of the season. But the Bears were better, and won the NFL title that year.

Ditka made a run and catch that day that I will never forget. I had an unusual view of it, from the auxiliary press box atop the right field stands, so I saw it from nearly directly overhead. Ditka bounced off about a half dozen Steelers on a fantastic run of 40 or some yards, but ran about twice that distance as he dodged one tackler after another, stiff-arming this one, breaking a tackle against the next guy. It was unreal.

- In 1954, Bob Peck, Pitt's first All-America (center in 1914, 1915, and 1916), was elected as the first Pitt player to be placed on the honor roll.
- In 1958, Marshall Goldberg, an All-America halfback in 1937 and All-America fullback in 1938.
- In 1965, George McLaren, an All-America fullback in 1917 and 1918.
- In 1967, Herb Stein, an All-America center in 1921.

ROSE BOWL BOUND — In the 91-year history of Pitt football, only nine Panther teams were considered national champions. This was one of them. Here, the 1936 club prepares for the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, the Panthers' fourth and final appearance in that game. The line, left to right, included Fabian Hoffman, Averell Daniell, Al Lezouski (Leeson), Henry Adams, Bill Glassford, Tony Matisi and Bill Daddio. Backfield, left to right, Curly Stebbins, Vince Stapulis, John Chickerneo and Marshall Goldberg.

PANTHERS ON THE AIR

Three years ago the University of Pittsburgh and 1250/WTAE Radio entered into an agreement which permitted the station to broadcast all Panther football and basketball games. During the football season, the 1250/WTAE Radio will feed a regional network comprised of approximately 25 stations, including the following:

WESB—Bradford, Pa.
WISR—Butler, Pa.
W100—Carlisle, Pa.
WCVI—Connellsville, Pa.
WEYZ—Erie, Pa.
WSKE—Everett, Pa.
WJAC—Johnstown, Pa.
WCNS—Latrobe, Pa.
WRJR—Oil City, Pa.
WYIS—Phoenixville, Pa.
WWML—Portage, Pa.
WPXZ—Punxsutawney, Pa.
WICK—Scranton, Pa.
WVSC—Somerset, Pa.
WRRN—Warren, Pa.
WESA—Charleroi, Pa.

WTAE Radio coverage will begin at approximately 10 a.m. on Saturdays, and will continue live throughout the day, covering a full day of college football with Pitt and WTAE.

The Mike Gottfried Show will air on 1250/WTAE Radio on Thursdays, from 7-8 p.m. as the second half of Myron Cope's sports talk show.

This season, a new concept will be implemented regarding the weekly Coach's Show when WTAE-TV produces and markets a series of five prime-time specials to be aired on Pitt football in 1986.

A preseason show highlighting Head Coach Mike Gottfried and the Panthers will be aired on August 30, from 8-9 p.m., and can be viewed locally on Channel 4 in Pittsburgh. WTAE will show three in-season specials and follow up with a season wrap-up special.

These shows will be syndicated throughout the East.

BILL HILLGROVE

Bill Hillgrove considers himself a lucky guy, so he's not worried about this being his 13th season as "The Voice of the Panthers" on WTAE's broadcasts of Pitt football games. Hillgrove grew up in Garfield, and graduated from Central Catholic High School and Duquesne University, but there's no doubt that he is happy to be allied with Pitt these past 16 years — he's been doing the Pitt basketball broadcasts even longer than football. Hillgrove takes great pride in his Pitt association, and perhaps it's time to call him "the heart and soul" of the Panthers, too. The University and its sports teams don't have a better ambassador of good will. Wherever Hillgrove goes, and he goes to great lengths to appear at Pitt's Golden Panthers' dinners and any other functions relating to Pitt's programs, he does a great job. He is quite popular in Pittsburgh, as evidenced by his strong showing this summer in a media poll by The Pittsburgh Press. Everyone is comfortable with Hillgrove, and his down-to-earth, happy-to-be-here approach, and he knows and cares about his subjects. He has been the sports director at WTAE-TV since 1979. He has been an enduring Pittsburgh sports personality, and everyone associated with Pitt takes pride in having him representing the school as he does.

Ditka still prides himself on being a Bears player, as well as an all-pro caliber tight end with the Philadelphia Eagles and Dallas Cowboys during his 12 years of NFL play. But he also cherishes his roots in Western Pennsylvania, and especially his Pitt association.

"Looking back to my college career," Ditka once declared while participating in a Pitt golf outing at the Pittsburgh Field Club that raised $50,000 for the local Leukemia Society, "Pitt means to me my whole life — what I am now. As a kid growing up, I wanted to go to Notre Dame. But they didn't get interested in me till late in the summer after my senior year at Aliquippa.

"When they finally invited me to visit their campus, I had to turn down an invitation to meet by boyhood idol, Stan Musial. It came down to choosing between Pitt and Penn State or, really, the recruiting coaches, Jack Wiley and Joe Paterno. I loved them both.

"At the last minute, I decided I wanted to be a dentist, so I went to Pitt. I owe Pitt so much. They played the finest schedule, and they gave me a publicity guy on my side in Beano Cook, and he helped me to become an All-American.

"Johnny Michelosen may never go down as one of the greatest coaches of all time, but he had a lot of character. He taught you how to play basic fundamental football. We tried to double-team everybody on the field, but, of course, you couldn't do that.

"I never thought I was a good athlete. I thought I was determined. That's what I'm looking for with the Bears — people with the right attitude."

It appears he has found them. Ditka deserves to coach such a team.

GOTTFRIED ESTABLISHES NEW AWARDS

Head football coach Mike Gottfried established four new awards to acknowledge outstanding performances by Pitt players in the spring training session.

"We did this," Gottfried said, "to enhance and strengthen the feeling of Pitt's great football tradition among the current squad members."

He created the Dr. John B. "Jock" Sutherland Award for the most valuable offensive lineman; the Glenn "Pop" Warner Award for the most valuable defensive lineman; the John Michelosen Award for the most valuable offensive back; the John Majors Award for the most valuable defensive back.

These awards were determined on the basis of secret balloting by the squad and were presented to the winners at the team's banquet following the annual Blue-Gold Game.

1986 SPRING AWARD WINNERS

"Jock" Sutherland Award — Randy Dixon, OT
Glenn "Pop" Warner Award — Tony Woods, DE
John Michelosen Award — Craig Heyward, RB
John Majors Award — Gary Richard, CB

1986 BLUE-GOLD SPRING GAME

Defense prevailed in Pitt's annual Blue-Gold intrasquad game Monday, April 28, at Pitt Stadium as the Blue team edged the Gold, 7-6.

Tri-captain Steve Apke of Cincinnati simply played inspired football for the Blue squad. The Panther linebacker recorded seven tackles, intercepted two passes and recovered a fumble.

The only score in the first half occurred with just 16 seconds remaining when the Gold's quarterback Sal Genilla lofted a 19-yard pass to Michael Stewart. Mark Brasco's extra point attempt was blocked.

The Blue team, coached by Pittsburgh Press columnist Bob Smizik, scored the tying touchdown when Craig Heyward jumped into the end zone from two yards out. Pat Viancourt added the game-winning PAT for the victory. Pittsburgh Post-Gazette columnist Bruce Keidan coached the Gold unit.

JC transfer Sal Genilla completed 11 of 32 passes for 144 yards and one touchdown while throwing two interceptions. Joe Felitsky of the Blue squad connected on five of his 13 aerials for 69 yards. Felitsky suffered a mild shoulder separation and left at halftime. His replacement, Steve Hughes, completed three of nine passes for 25 yards.

A bright note was the play of Blue wide receiver Billy Osborn. Osborn, who only two weeks before was battling in the defensive backfield for a starting position, was switched and has come on strong at his new position. The Wildwod Crest, N.J., native caught five passes for 83 yards including a brilliant 31-yard reception where he caught a tipped ball out of the air.

THE ED CONWAY MEMORIAL AWARD

Ed Conway

Ed Conway was the "Voice of Pitt Football" for four years before his death in 1974. He was an honest, hard-working, professional sportscaster in Pittsburgh. Above all, Ed Conway was a friend.

In appreciation of his work, and in keeping alive memories of him, Pitt football presents an award in his honor annually to the Most Improved offensive and defensive player on the squad each spring.

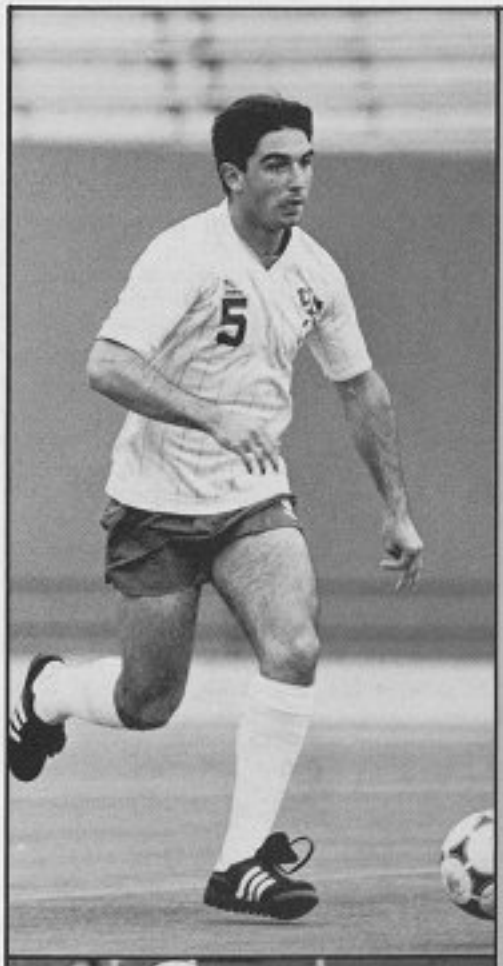
PITT SPORTS SCENE



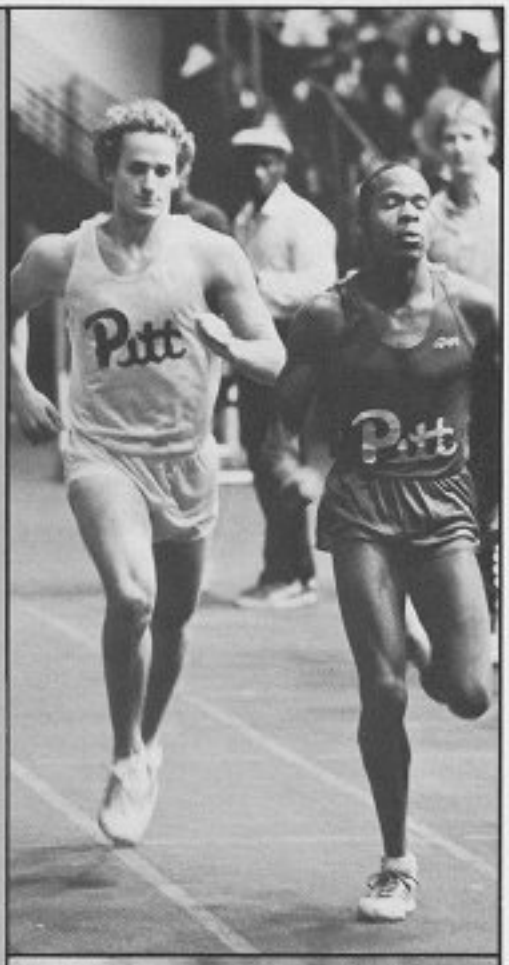
The University of Pittsburgh boasts 17 varsity teams that compete on an NCAA Division I level, topped by its football and basketball teams that have gained national recognition.

Its track and field team has gained international recognition in the past and may do so again, if junior sprinter Lee McRae continues to blaze at his world record setting pace.

In 1984, Pitt's Roger Kingdom won a gold medal in the 110-meter high hurdles at the Olympic Games in Los Angeles — John Woodruff's 800-meter gold medal-winning effort in 1936 at Berlin had been Pitt's only previous Olympic triumph — and McRae could be a contender for similar honors in the sprints in 1988 at Seoul, Korea. He set a world record last winter with a 6 seconds flat clocking in the 55-meters at the NCAA Indoor Championships.

McRae was one of nine Pitt athletes who gained All-American honors. The others were teammates Eric Cannon, Joe Daniels, Tim Manes, David Moore and Bob Weiner. Swimmer Sue Hickman gained All-American status for the third straight year. Senior Kyle Nellis and freshman Pat Santoro won All-American honors in wrestling, and their coach, Rande Stottlemyer, was named Eastern Wrestling League Co-Coach of the Year with a 9-3-2 record.

Track and field and cross-country coaches John Vasvary and Steve Lewis are building an outstanding program.



Pitt is well represented in other sports, too, with the majority of its teams competing in the prestigious Big East, known best for its national basketball powers. The Panthers, under new coach Paul Evans, are expected to play to full house crowds (6,798) at Fitzgerald Field House and, on occasion, at the Civic Arena (16,253) and to be a contender for national honors. The women's team, in its second season under Coach Kirk Bruce, should continue its improvement.

The Pitt men's and women's swimming and diving teams have won the Big East title the last four years at Trees Pool, the school's Olympic-size facility. Men's swim coach Fred Lewis and diving coach Julian Krug were named Big East coaches of the year. The Lady Panthers swim team posted an 11-0 record, and extended its win streak to 20 over two years for Coach Dave Belowich.

Coach Shelton Collier's women's volleyball team finished runner-up in the Big East tournament at Providence. The Pitt soccer team was one of the more successful ones with an 11-4-2 record under Coach Joe Luxbacher.

The Lady Panthers' gymnastics team finished with a 9-6-1 record in Donna Sanft's 12th and final season (she's switched to the administrative side in the department of athletics), and the men's gym team coached by Frank D'Amico sent three competitors to the NCAA championships.

Bobby Lewis, in his 32nd season as baseball coach, notched his 400th victory during the spring term. George Dieffenbach produces winners regularly in men's and women's tennis.

MORE PITT PROS

Rob Fada

Bob Schilken

While some University of Pittsburgh football players go on to play or coach professional football, some pursue life after football in other professional fields.

Bob Schilken from Mt. Lebanon and Rob Fada from Fairborn, Ohio, are just two of the Panthers who epitomize the role of the student-athlete and currently fit that mold. Both have recently been accepted into Pitt's medical school.

Schilken, who graduated last year with a degree in Chemistry, earned numerous academic awards while playing defensive end and noseguard. He was one of 13 recipients in the country to be awarded an NCAA postgraduate scholarship. He was a co-recipient of the Blue-Gold Award, presented to a graduating senior who best exemplifies academics and athletics.

Schilken was named to the GTE College Sports Information Directors of America Academic All-America second team. He maintained above a 3.5 GPA and was named to the Athletic Director's Honor Roll and Dean's List six consecutive terms.

Fada maintained above a 3.6 GPA and has had the chance to pursue both professions. He received his degree in Behavioral Neuroscience in 1983.

Fada was a three-year starter at offensive guard for the Panthers. He was a ninth-round draft choice of the Chicago Bears and started the first three games his rookie year before going down with a knee injury. He is currently with the Kansas City Chiefs.

Fada was a two-year first team Academic All-America and also received the Blue-Gold Award his senior season.

While both Fada and Schilken had the chance to fulfill their dreams of playing major college football at Pitt, through their hard work and determination they both have the opportunity to reach their lifelong ambitions to become doctors.

SPORTS INFORMATION

JIM O'BRIEN
Assistant Athletic Director for Public Relations/Sports Information Director

Jim O'Brien is in his fourth year of promoting the University and its athletic programs at his alma mater. He is a 1964 graduate with a B.A. degree in English. As a student, he was sports editor of The Pitt News for three years and won many national writing awards, as well as Druids and Omicron Delta Kappa honors on the campus.

He has directed efforts that have resulted in "Best In The Nation" and regional awards from the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) for publications produced by the Pitt Sports Information Department.

Anybody who has seen Jim leading a pack of grade school youngsters through the Field House or Pitt Stadium can appreciate how much he enjoys introducing young people to Pitt, its athletic facilities, coaches, administrators, staff and athletes. He has taken over a thousand youngsters on such field trips each of the last two spring sessions, and sent them home vowing to root for Pitt's sports teams the rest of their lives. He is a popular emcee and after-dinner speaker at area charity-related fund-raising events.

Speaking on behalf of Pitt, those field trips, Pitt Plus — a weekly positive report subscription service to alumni and fans — an internship program, and community and outreach programs by Pitt representatives are some of the programs he is proudest of establishing.

He has served on the board of directors of the Oakland Business and Civic Association, The Ozanam Cultural Center, the National Football Foundation, Dapper Dan Club and Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame, Western Chapter, the nominating committee for the Basketball Hall of Fame, and he votes for the Baseball Hall of Fame.

He previously worked at The Pittsburgh Press, New York Post and The Miami News, and was a long-time columnist for The Sporting News. He has been editor of Street & Smith's Basketball Yearbook for 17 years, and is a contributing writer in many local and national publications. He has teamed with Marty Wolfson to produce two best-selling books, "Hail to Pitt: A Sports History of the University of Pittsburgh," and "Pittsburgh: The Story of the City of Champions."

O'Brien and his wife, Kathleen, who has her master's degree in social work from Pitt, are active in many community programs including PTA, in Upper St. Clair, and are enthusiastic tennis, platform tennis and bridge players. They have two daughters, Sarah, 13, and Rebecca, 9.

KIMBALL SMITH
Ticket Sales Director/Promotions and Men's Basketball Publicist

Kimball Smith begins his 10th year as a member of the sports information staff.

A 1975 graduate of Cornell University, Smith continued his education at the University of Massachusetts where he earned his Master's Degree in Athletic Administration in 1976. He worked in the sports information offices at both Cornell and UMass before coming to Pitt as a graduate intern in the fall of 1976. He was hired in his present capacity in ticket sales and promotions in 1977 and began his primary basketball publicity involvement three years ago.

Smith's duties include the coordination of promotions and ticket sales for both football and basketball. Pitt football has had seven of its top 10 attendance seasons in the last 10 years and has broken four attendance records during that span. In 1985-86 the Pitt basketball team sold out its season in advance on a season ticket basis for the first time ever. Three years ago Smith won a CoSIDA award for the 1982-83 men's basketball brochure.

During his tenure at Pitt Smith has had a broad range of experience. He has produced both football and basketball highlight films; coordinated the school's most ambitious football and basketball promotional efforts; supervised the running of the electronic scoreboards at both football and basketball games; devised TV and radio advertising campaigns for both football and basketball; and produced TV and radio commercials to promote both sports. In 1979 he was also the meet director for the Eastern Wrestling League Championships that were held at Pitt.

He is married to the former Nancy Rees; they have a daughter, Kelly Jean, age 8, and a son, Kyle David, nine months.

LINDA VENZON
Assistant Sports Information Director/Football Publicist

Linda Venzon begins her seventh season on the sports information staff.

A 1980 Pitt graduate, Venzon worked one year as a student intern in the sports information office while attending Pitt, before gaining public relations experience on the professional level with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

In six years, Venzon has been media liaison for 15 regional, conference and international varsity events. During that time, her duties were expanded to cover Pitt's 17 varsity sports while assisting in men's basketball and football.

She is in her second year assisting Jim O'Brien, working primarily with coverage of the Panther football team.

Venzon was selected to assist the NCAA in its initial women's basketball championship in Norfolk, Virginia. She is a member of the College Sports Information Directors of America and has won national and regional awards. The last two varsity sports yearbooks edited by O'Brien, Venzon and Teresa Varley were recognized as CoSIDA's "Best in the Nation" in the multi-sports publications.

Venzon begins her fifth year as the District II GTE CoSIDA Academic All-America coordinator for men's sports. She has been a member of the Foge Fazio Leukemia Golf Committee and has produced special publications for the Eastern Wrestling League. She was media liaison for the Team Xerox Marathon, held in Pittsburgh for the first time in 1984. Venzon is from Harrison Park.

TERESA VARLEY
Student Assistant/Varsity Sports

A communications major at Pitt, Varley is regarded as a godsend to the sports information office, a treasured gift from the Greenfield section of the city. She was a student intern for about two weeks, and was quickly added to the staff on a part-time (pay-wise) basis, but has put in 40-hour plus weeks. She is a senior, with three years' experience on the sports information staff. She has drawn praise from the Big East Conference office for her enthusiasm, efficiency and effectiveness for her tireless efforts in coordinating publicity and promotional efforts for the Big East Swimming & Diving Championships, the Pitt Track & Field Invitational, and the U.S. vs. Japan Olympic Volleyball Match, among others. She's been to Florida twice with the baseball team, and has traveled with the football, and track & field teams. She covers many Pitt events for The Pitt News, where her byline appears regularly.

BEA SCHWARTZ
Secretary/Editorial Assistant

Bea Schwartz is the heart and soul of the sports information office and its poet laureate. She also plays a mean game of pool — carrying her own stick — and ping-pong. She has been with the department the past eight seasons, and at the University for 16 years. She previously worked as a secretary in the philosophy department, which figures.

Anybody who has ever dealt with the sports information office has a favorite Bea Schwartz story. She's a "people person," and has a smile for everyone. Her heart is as gold as her hair.

She has quite the vocabulary, literary references and is an astute speller, and a dedicated worker who keeps things moving smoothly.

A native of Uniontown, Bea has a radio background and entertains everyone who visits the Pitt Department of Athletics.

Bea has two sons — Dr. Alan Schwartz, of Phoenix, Ariz., who is the medical director of the emergency center of Phoenix Baptist Hospital, and Marchie, who is in the automobile business in Phoenix. Bea has four grandchildren, Danny, Britton, Melissa and Jeffrey.

1985 FOOTBALL YEARBOOK HONORS

The 1985 football yearbook was recently recognized by the College Sports Information Directors of America as a national award winner. "Pitt Football 1985," edited by Jim O'Brien and Pat Hanlon, former Pitt assistant sports information director currently at the University of Oklahoma, combined to produce the yearbook, which finished sixth in the nation.

On Sunday he only gets one chance to do it right.

So he practices long after everyone else is through, preparing his body for the punishment. And he studies long into the night. Learning how to react in situations where he won't have time to think.
